

The ultimate luxury guide to New York

Home to some of the world's best bars, restaurants and hotels, New York City is as lively a destination as ever – but with such a plethora of venues, it's worth planning your itinerary well in advance. Here's where to find gourmet cuisine, decadent late-night cocktails and rejuvenating retreats in the Big Apple.

The cocktails: Ophelia

To imbibe the coolest cocktails in town from a skyline-showcasing front seat, look no further than Ophelia and its inventively named concoctions (Far East Side, Pain Killa and Resurrection are just some of the best tipples on the menu). The lounge, on the 26th floor of the Beekman Tower, has wraparound patios, art deco design flourishes and velvet banquettes. If you've overdone it on the mezcal-based mixes, the menu will come to the rescue, with carb-based comfort food such as grilled cheese and truffle fries the order of the day.
