

10 Pop-Up Bars for Basking in Holiday Cheer

New York City offers many ways to ring in the holidays: watch the Rockefeller Center tree lighting, take in a showing of the Nutcracker, or go ice skating in Bryant Park. But let's get real, the best way to cheer the season on is by tasting it, and there's no better place to do so than one of the below holiday-themed cocktail bars.

Midtown's Art Deco-inspired cocktail bar Ophelia has been dressing its sky-high space (located on the 26th floor) to look like a snow globe for the last four years, and this season is no exception. Sheepskin throws and dangling snowflakes create a winter wonderland look, and while drinks here aren't necessarily snow-themed, they are seasonal. The menu includes a Caribbean old fashioned with aged rum, piloncillo sugar, winter spices, and citrus oils; and there's the Paradox with cacao bean-infused vodka, banana-infused amaro, cold brew, Cointreau, cinnamon, vanilla and a cream float.
