

Where to Spend Valentine's Day in NYC

Valentine's Day makes people very opinionated: you either love it or hate it. Restaurants, bars, and spas throughout NYC are making the red-and-pink-themed holiday worth celebrating because, in this city, there's always something to do. Whether you want to celebrate with your significant other at a luxurious dining experience or drink away the pain with your friends, L'OFFICIEL has the ultimate list of the chicest things to do this Valentine's Day.

Ophelia

Spend Valentine's Day atop the famous Beekman Tower at Ophelia Cocktail Lounge and enjoy skyline views of the city, Moët Imperial Champagne, beautiful floral arrangements, and confections that pair perfectly with a glass of chilled champagne. Complete with soft candlelight, enchanting classical music, and a chic interior space, you're sure to relish the company of your loved one—and specialty cocktails—at Ophelia this Valentine's Day.

Price: $125 per person for a rooftop champagne experience.

Booking: Reservations available through OpenTable.
