

The ultimate NYC Father's Day guide: Where to eat, drink, and celebrate dad

Natalia Alvarez · June 11, 2026

Father's Day is right around the corner (Sunday, June 21, 2026!), and it's time to start planning how to spoil the father figures in your life.

Whether your dad is a barbecue connoisseur, an outdoor adventurer, a sports fanatic, or a guy who just wants to kick back with a good glass of bourbon, New York City has plenty of ways to celebrate.

We've sifted through all the options to bring you the most interesting, unique, and dad-approved activities for this year.

15. Feast at Industry Kitchen

70 South Street at Maiden Lane

Tucked along the East River just steps from the historic South Street Seaport, Industry Kitchen is rolling out a special à la carte menu built specifically for the steak-and-seafood-loving dad. While soaking in the waterfront views, Dad can indulge in a classic lobster caviar bisque or an over-the-top Foie Gras Beef Burger served on a soft pretzel bun.

14. Treat him to a $60 rooftop pre-fixe at Ophelia

Rooftop View / Ophelia Lounge NYC

3 Mitchell Pl 26th floor

For stunning panoramic views of Midtown Manhattan and Brooklyn, take Dad up to the 26th floor of the historic Beekman Tower. Ophelia, an Art Deco-inspired cocktail lounge, is offering an incredible three-course pre-fixe dinner for just $60. He can feast on duck confit spring rolls, a filet mignon au poivre, and finish it all off with coconut creme brûlée or tiramisu.
