

NYC Romantic Reservations to Make for Valentine's Day

Jason and I are planning a romantic dinner in New York City for Valentine's Day! We wanted to make a list to pull from. The two of us are looking to book 1 spot for a romantic setting and keep a list ready for future special occasions. There are tons of places that have menu highlights for the holiday, more casual restaurants if you are looking to dress down, a pre-fixe menu and craft cocktails for February 14th. Special events are throughout the year! A Valentine's Day date is something that stays on our calendar for one day a year. We want to make sure we check out the city's most romantic restaurant.

The Watermark

Located on Pier 15, we come here for everything! They have the most stunning waterfront setting, making it a picturesque choice for a romantic Valentine's Day dinner. With its modern, upscale atmosphere and menu featuring fresh seafood and expertly crafted dishes, it provides a memorable dining experience for couples. Great views and even better food!

Mezze on the River

This is at the top of our list! Mezze on the River is perfect for a romantic Valentine's Day dinner with stunning views of the water. Known for its Mediterranean-inspired cuisine and elegant, contemporary ambiance, it provides a sophisticated yet intimate atmosphere ideal for celebrating love.
