WINE LIST

NOVEMBER WINES OF THE MONTH

RICCI CURBASTRO FRANCIACORTA BRUT ROSÉ
Pinot Nero, Chardonnay, NV, Lombardy — 120

This Champagne method sparkling wine, from Italy's best sparkling wine producing area, gives the namesake a run for its money, literally.

All of the balance of freshness, bright red fruit and fun with a serious mineral edge and the toasty depth that comes from a minumum of 3 years ageing.

TIEFENBRUNNER FELDMARSCHALL VON FENNER
Muller Thurgau, 2021, Alto Adige — 144

The name and the grape are a mouthful but luckily so is the wine! A quick search of the Favogna plateau will spark interest in your next vacation as well as your next bottle of wine.

This high altitude vineyard gets great sunshine as well as cooling alpine breezes, producing an abundance of aromatic fruit and mouth watering acidity. Full bodied and vibrant with a long finish, great with any of our crudo dishes.

COSIMO MARIA MASINI ‘DAPHNE’
Trebbiano, 2021, Tuscany — 72

Trebbiano oftens needs a buddy. It’s a wonderful grape to build a foundation with, but a sprinkle of the showy malvasia gives wonderful synergy. This biodynamic orange wine undergoes lengthy skin contact in concrete, which builds rich texture and a bit of tannin, one I liked to orange marmalade. This is the type of wine that can pair your lighter first bite as well as your richer dishes at the end of the meal.

ELISABETTA FORADORI 'ROTALIANO'
Teroldego, 2023, Alto Adige — 100

Teroldego is a parent grape to Syrah, and likes to show its fruit alongside a peppery and sometimes savory character. Another example of how the Italian alps give a wine what it needs to be all things to all people. Medium bodied, fruity but not fruit driven, good acidity that keeps tension and enough tannin structure to open up beautifully throughout your meal.

CASTIGLION DEL BOSCO 'BRUNELLO DI MONTALCINO'
Sangiovese, Tuscany, 2015 — 250

2015 was a warmer year with ample sunshine and time to harvest. This benchmark producers never misses but they really hit the mark here, using the vintage to show off all the power and intensity that Brunello is known for but alongside a great deal of freshness and finesse. You'll taste the sought after notes of leather, earth, tobacco and spices show up in the finish.

MONTECARIANO 'MR. NOBODY'
Corvina, Rondinella, Molinara, Veneto 2017 — 180

The label and wine are an homage to the Spaghetti Westerns of yore. The main character, Mr. Nobody was said to stand for the freedom to be known for what we are, rather than what we are named.

This wine earns the label IGT Veneto, often used for wines that don't fit the mold of the appelation, however to me this is its brightest star. Aged in a mix of amphorae and used oak, its silky, bright, complex and is one of the few bottles of red wine I would drink on its own!
