

NYC Restaurants With Enclosed Tents For When It's Freezing & Raining Sideways

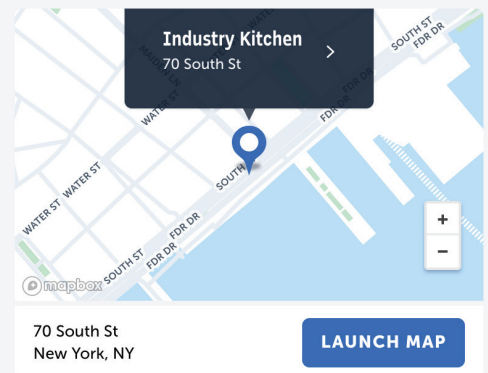

Also known as The Sh*tty Weather Guide.

Written by
Hannah Albertine

HANNAH ALBERTINE

Industry Kitchen

$$$$ | American, Bar Food, Pizza in Financial District, South Street Seaport

Industry Kitchen has installed a few personal table coverings to block undesirable weather. Unlike Cafe Du Soleil's bubble domes, this pizza and salad spot on the East River has table tents that look more like tiny clear houses. In fact, some real estate broker could probably list one on StreetEasy for $1,500 a month on the Lower East Side - utilities not included. Industry Kitchen is open from noon to 10pm every day, and you can reserve a table here - but we'd suggest giving them a call to ask about tent availability.