

Good King News

---

How New York Eating places Are Pitching In on Harvey Reduction Endeavours

admin  September 1, 2017  No Comments

---

Past weekend, Hurricane Harvey made landfall in Texas, mostly impacting the Rockport, Port Aransas, and Houston places. To help in restoration efforts, New York area restaurants are executing their aspect to elevate revenue for those impacted.

- From Friday to Monday, waterfront oyster bars Grand Banking companies, Island Oyster and Fillet will provide a $15 Crimson Cross cocktail, with 100 p.c of profits going to the Crimson Cross' Harvey restoration efforts. Hudson River Park, Pier 25 Ferry Line Rd, Brooklyn Brooklyn Bridge Park Pier 6
- On Thursday, September 7, Industry Kitchen area and Watermark Bar will donate 100 p.c of the profits from their Hope After the Storm cocktail to the Crimson Cross. 70 South Street, 78 South Street, FiDi
- All New York areas of Panda Specific are accepting in retail store donations until eventually September 15. Numerous areas
- Laurent Tourondel's L'Amica is donating $3 to the Crimson Cross for every single Pipe Rigate purchased in September. 849 Sixth Avenue, Midtown