This wine is handcrafted by our very good friends at Truchard Vineyards. They are one of the best family producers in Napa that provide grapes to some of the finest wine producers in California. Their crop of Sauvignon Blanc grapes is limited, which allows them to bottle this exclusively for the Franklin Restaurant Group. This is an outstanding wine and an even better value. You cannot get this anywhere else!

ASK YOUR SERVER OR BARTENDER ABOUT OUR ROTATING DRAFT LINES!

WHISK(E)Y KNOWLEDGE FOR THOSE THAT WANT TO KNOW.

PLEASE PROCEED 'SINE METU'

Single barrel whiskey is a premium class of whiskey. Each bottle comes from an individual aging barrel, instead of coming from blending together the contents of various barrels to provide uniformity of color and taste. Even whiskeys that are not blends may be combined from more than one batch, or even from differing years to achieve consistency. In this case, the whiskey from each barrel is bottled separately, with each bottle bearing the barrel number and in most cases the dates for the beginning and end of aging. Each barrel is believed to contribute unique characteristics to the finished whiskey.

HAND-SELECTED SINGLE BARREL WHISKIES [& SPIRITS]

WHAT EXACTLY DOES 'HAND-SELECTED SINGLE BARREL' MEAN?

WELL, IT MEANS JUST THAT. EVERY BARREL OF WHISKEY IS DIFFERENT, AND THESE ARE ALL WHISKIES THAT WE TASTED, LOVED, AND HAD THE WHOLE BARREL BOTTLED AND LABELED JUST FOR US. NOW WE CAN SHARE IT WITH YOU. THIS MEANS THAT YOU CAN ONLY GET THESE WHISKIES HERE AT THE CITIZEN.

TRY THEM WHILE THEY LAST.

WE HOPE YOU LIKE THEM AS MUCH AS WE DO.

ELIJAH CRAIG SINGLE BARREL BOURBON CITIZEN. 2 9YR | 94 12.00

DISTILLER: HEAVEN HILL DISTILLERY, BARDSTOWN, KY

NOTES: Elijah Craig is produced at the Heaven Hill Distillery and named after Rev. Elijah Craig, who some claim is the inventor of bourbon. The story goes, that the Rev was a moonshiner whose stock was subject to a fire. He is said to have realized that the char on the barrel imparted flavor and color to his distillate, thus creating what we understand today as bourbon. It is unclear if this is simply folklore, but Elijah Craig comes to Citizen after nine years in one of their charred bourbon barrels. This is the second Elijah Craig barrel for Citizen Pub, and one of few with a nine year age statement that has been produced.

WHISTLEPIG SINGLE BARREL RYE 10.5YR | 118 16.00

DISTILLER: WHISTLEPIG DISTILLERY, SHOREHAM, VT

NOTES: The complexity of this rye is what stands out the most; this is from the product being bottled right from the barrel and not being cut with water to help lower proof or dilute the product. This barrel was selected by the team at Citizen and is only found at our establishment. The product is hot and spicy yet shows what a true 100% rye whiskey stands for. Whistle Pig in Vermont purchases rye distillate but ages and perfects the product, which comes through in every bottle.

RUSSELL'S RESERVE SINGLE BARREL STRAIGHT BOURBON 10YR | 110 12.00

DISTILLER: WILD TURKEY DISTILLERY, LAWRENCEBURG, KY

NOTES: This is the first barrel of Russel's Reserve selected by Citizen. It was selected out of the oldest rickhouse at Wild Turkey in October of 2016, with the assistance of master distiller, Eddy Russel. The Russel family has been working at the Wild Turkey Distillery for nearly a century, working with one mash bill of corn, barley and rye for all expressions of their bourbon. Only a small number of barrels are selected to continue maturation to become Russel's Reserve.

WOODFORD RESERVE 'THE PAT' SINGLE BARREL NAS | 90.4 14.00

DISTILLER: WOODFORD RESERVE DISTILLERY- VERSAILLES, KY

NOTES: This is hand crafted bourbon blended from two Citizen selected barrels. Barrels chosen from a small collection handpicked by Master Distiller and whiskey guru Chris Morris. No two Barrels are ever the same. Woodford Reserve Distillery sits on Kentucky's oldest distilling site dating from 1812. Our Citizen selected reflects that deep history and heritage. We call this bottling "The Pat" named after our Brobdingnagian whiskey Rep Pat Gill. Making this bottle the only Woodford Hand Selected in history named after a Liquor Rep! One of our most complex bourbons, this is smooth, almost creamy. A sophisticated balance of dried apricot, blood orange, dried rose, toffee, chocolate, hint of pepper oil & warm spice. This is fantastic in a cocktail!

HAND-SELECTED SINGLE BARREL WHISKIES [& SPIRITS] _____

The term "Small Batch" always refers to American whiskeys which have been distilled in limited quantity. The most commonplace meaning of the term is for a bourbon or rye whiskey which is distilled in quantities of around 1,000 gallons or less (typically fewer than 20 barrels), from a mash bill of under "200 bushels of grain".

Cask strength (also known as barrel strength) is a term used by whiskey producers to describe a whiskey that has not been substantially diluted after its storage in a cask for maturation. The level of alcohol-by-volume strength for a cask strength whiskey is typically in the range of 58-66% ABV.

KNOB CREEK SINGLE BARREL BOURBON 9 YR

9YR | 120 16.00

DISTILLER: KNOB CREEK DISTILLING CO- CLERMONT, KY

NOTES: This is our third barrel of Knob Creek and continues in a tradition of great Citizen selections. Citizen is the only place in the world you can drink this barrel. Never chill filtered, aged in American Oak, the barrel comes from "The Center Cut" of the rickhouse (or the middle) famous for having the most consistent yielding and balanced flavor. Flavors that are forged as the non heat or air conditioned warehouse is naturally acclimated to whatever weather Clermont Kentucky brings for nine straight years. Deep amber hue, warm smokey wood tones, baking spices, sweet, very balanced and elegant.

KNOB CREEK SINGLE BARREL BOURBON 15 YR

15YR | 120 16.00

DISTILLER: KNOB CREEK DISTILLING CO- CLERMONT, KY

NOTES: This is our fourth ever selection from Knob Creek and in many ways we are most proud of it. It is exceeding rare that a distiller would part with fifteen year old aged whisky. Add to that the caliber of this whisky and we feel truly lucky to be able to bring it to you. Never chill filtered, aged in American oak, this barrel comes from the bottom racks of the rickhouse where it is cooler and damper. Because of this location in the rickhouse the barrel experienced more alcohol evaporation making it softer. Henna in color, caramel, vanilla throughout, evenly sweet, smooth. A perfect sipping whiskey and this is the only place in the world you can drink it.

MAKER'S MARK PRIVATE SELECT BOURBON

NAS | 108.8 18.00

DISTILLER: MAKER'S MARK DISTILLERY - STAR HILL FARM, LORETTO, KY

NOTES: Makers Mark has one of the most unique cask strength single barrel selection processes in the world. They take a barrel of their five to seven year old whisky, add staves of various wood types and charring to flavor, age for an additional nine weeks in cold conditions and then bottle. Our Makers Mark selection is finished in the barrel with a curated combination of Citizen selected oak staves to give the whisky its' distinct flavor profile. The Staves we used include seared french cuvee, makers 46, roasted french mocha, toasted french spice. They create a smooth, warm, completely balanced bourbon. This is the only place you are able to drink this cask strength whisky, it is truly a one of a kind experience. Sweet dried fruit, coumarin, spiced wood, slight hint of maple, chocolate. If you love Makers, you need to try this.

GARRISON BROTHERS SINGLE BARREL

DISTILLER: GARRISON BROTHERS DISTILLERY- HYE, TX

NOTES: Caramel, vanilla, orange confection, and lemon oil on the nose with rich barrel char and dried fruit. Flavors of maple, toasted barrel, leather, and wood tannins with allspice and nutmeg. Ginger spice and cinnamon heat follow with a lightly tart impression and a long, dry finish of tobacco and hazelnut. This Product is very interesting, you get a whiskey from a region that has a high angel share due to evaporation so they must age it quickly. Garrison uses quarter kegs which have less surface area, so three years is hopefully equivalent to nine in a full barrel. The spirit is young, but it has richness and bold flavor.

KAVALAN SINGLE MALT EX BOURBON CASK

NAS | 115.6 20.00

DISTILLER: KAVALAN DISTILLERY- TAIWAN

NOTES: Available for the first time in the United States, Kavalan's single malt is matured exclusively in ex-bourbon American white oak casks that have been stripped, toasted and re-charred. The whisky is cask strength (57.8%) and all hand-bottled and hand-labeled. Citizen Public House is the only restaurant in New England to have a Kavalan Single Barrel selection.

PLANTATION MULTI ISLAND XO RUM

12YR | 93 14.00

DISTILLER: WEST INDIES RUM DISTILLERY- BARBADOS

NOTES: Yes, it's true...we also like to drink rum. This is a single barrel is triple matured. It starts in the Caribbean in a bourbon cask for roughly 10 years. When it moves to the continent it ages for another 2 years in a Pierre Ferrand cognac cask. Finally, to give it more depth it is aged for one year in a peaty Arran cask.

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

Bourbon's general flavor profile can be characterized as having big vanilla, oak, and caramel notes.

❁
To be labeled as bottled-in-bond or bonded, the liquor must be the product of one distillation season January-June or July-December) by one distiller at one distillery. It must have been aged in a federally bonded warehouse under U.S. Government supervision for at least four years and bottled at 100 proof. The bottled product's label must identify the distillery where it was distilled and, if different, where it was bottled. Only spirits produced in the U.S. may be designated as bonded.

❁
Bourbon must be made with at least 51% corn in the mash (with rye and barley typically filling out the remainder), distilled to no more than 160 proof, barreled at 125 proof, and bottled at minimum 40% ABV.

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

A pot still is a type of distillation apparatus or still used to distill alcoholic spirits. Pot stills operate on a batch distillation basis (as opposed to a Coffey or column stills which operate on a continuous basis). Traditionally constructed from copper, pot stills are made in a range of shapes and sizes depending on the quantity and style of spirit desired.

In the United States, "rye whiskey" is, by law, made from a mash of at least 51 percent rye. (The other ingredients of the mash are usually corn and malted barley.) It is distilled to no more than 160 U.S. proof (80% abv), and aged in charred, new oak barrels.

"Straight" rye must be aged at least two years. If it is aged less than four years, the bottle should carry an age statement. If a bottle labeled "straight rye" lists no age, it should be at least four years old.

'NAS' stands for "No Age Statement." No age statement means that there is no age listed on the bottle itself. By law, if you put an age statement on the bottle then every drop in that bottle must be at least that age.

A Non-Distiller Producer is any company that gets its whiskey from another distillery and then blends and bottles it. Many startups or companies that cannot keep up with demand will source their whiskey while they ramp up their distillation. There are many tasty NDP whiskeys.

American Single Malt must be:

- 1) made from 100% malted barley
- 2) distilled at one distillery
- 3) mashed, distilled and matured in the U.S
- 4) matured in oak, not exceeding 700l
- 5) distilled to no more than 160 proof
- 6) bottled at 80 proof or higher

Tennessee whiskey is made exactly like bourbon, except the spirit is maple charcoal filtered (with maple trees being cut and burned into charcoal seasonally), resulting in a smoother product. This process is known as 'The Lincoln County Process'.

"Single barrel" bourbons, come from just one barrel, expressing the idiosyncrasies of that bourbon's aging cycle.

Canadian whisky, as compared to other whiskys, is typically lighter and smoother. It's usually made with different grains, but corn is often most prevalent. For a while, rye was a popular addition.

Higher proof spirits with less time aging are often the primary spirits in blends, along with more premium whiskies and other ingredients added for flavoring.

Blended malt whisky is simply a combination of single malts from different distilleries.

Single malt whisky is malt whisky from a single distillery, that is, whisky distilled from a fermented mash made with malted barley, as distinguished from un-malted grain.

AMERICAN WHISKEY

American whiskeys have a range of styles. American single malts tend to be more smoky, aromatic and sometimes honeyed while Tennessee whiskey is closely related to bourbon, but has a much mellower profile. Wheat whiskey has a lightness and gentle sweetness, but depending on the amount of secondary grains, the spice factor is generally relatively low.

The main difference between Scotch and whiskey is geographic, but also ingredients and spellings. Scotch is whisky made in Scotland, while bourbon is whiskey made in the U.S.A, generally Kentucky. Scotch is made mostly from malted barley, while bourbon is distilled from corn.

"Malt" indicates that the whisky is distilled from a "malted" barley. Several types of grains can be malted (for example, barley, rye and wheat are all grains which can be malted); however, in the case of single malt Scotch, barley is the only grain that can be used.

"Single" indicates that all the spirits in the bottle come from a single distillery.

Whiskey vs. Whisky

If the country of Origin has an 'E' in the name the whisk[e]y will also. Ireland- Whiskey America- Whiskey Japan- Whisky Scotland- Whisky Canada- Whisky India- Whisky

The term "whisky" is actually derived from the Gaelic words uisage beatha, which in turn came from the Latin Acqua Vitae or "water of life." It's thought that the name refers to the fact that these spirits were first used by monks for medicinal purposes.

Scotch whisky is, at its most basic, a distilled beer. It's made using malted barley but the "wash" is different from beer b/c it has no hops added. It's then distilled twice and aged in oak barrels for a minimum of three years before it can be called whisky.

CANADIAN WHISKY

Canadian whisky can have variety of flavors depending on the grain used, which is predominantly wheat [unless specified as a rye]. The most common flavor profile is light, mild and sweet.

BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY

Blended Scotch is a mixture of different whiskies [malt and grain], so each brand of Blended Scotch Whiskey tends to have its own flavor profile but will remain consistent across batches. Because it is a blend and tends to contain more grain whisky than malt whisky it is much milder than a Single Malt.

“Barrel” in Scotland refers to an oak cask that holds 40 gallons (180 liters) of spirit.

A “hogshead” or “hoggie” is a cask which holds 55 gallons (250 liters) of spirit. Barrels and hoggies typically come from the Bourbon industry.

A “butt” cask holds 110 gallons (500 liters) of spirit. These are typically from the Sherry industry.

A “quarter cask” refers to a quarter of a butt and holds about 28 gallons of spirit. In theory, the larger the vessel the longer time needed to age. In using a quarter cask, you also allow more of the spirit to touch the wood, so aging in a smaller cask can increase wood imparted flavors and compounds.

To be a single malt scotch the whisky must have been distilled at a single distillery using a pot still distillation process and made from a mash of malted barley. As with any Scotch whisky, a single malt Scotch must be distilled in Scotland and matured in oak casks in Scotland for at least three years and one day.

The whiskies of the distilleries along the southeastern coast of the island of Islay, have a smoky character derived from peat, considered a central characteristic of the Islay malts, and ascribed both to the water from which the whisky is made and to the peating levels of the barley.

With a population of 5.3 million, and more than 20 million barrels of whisky in store, Scotland has almost four casks of whisky per citizen.

The oldest reference to the production of whisky is not in fact in Scotland, but in Ireland, where it is believed that monks began distilling spirits as far back as the fifth century. The first reference from Scotland is found in the Exchequer rolls, the accounting records for the royal finances in 1494, where an allowance was made for "eight bolls of malt to Friar John Cor wherewith to make aqua vitae."

The peat used to dry the barley and bring this characteristic smoky aroma to some of your favourite whiskies was probably between 1000 to 5000 years old... Yeap, peatbogs only grow by around 1mm every year... Whisky is a game of patience!

❁

Unopened, a bottle of scotch can last more than 100 years.

❁

The most expensive bottle of scotch ever sold went for $6.2 million.

Around 90% of all the whisky sold in the world is still blended whisky.

Shinjiro Torii built Yamazaki, the first whisky distillery in Japan, in 1923 and released the first true Japanese whisky in 1929, so it's not exactly the new booze on the block. Since 1923, Suntory remains a family affair, with three generations of master blenders passing down distillation and blending techniques.

Founding Father of Japanese Whisky Masataka Taketsuru learned the magic of whisky... In Scotland! He flew to the land of Scotch in 1918 to study chemistry at The University of Glasgow and learnt the art of distillation at several distilleries including Longmorn and Hazelburn. He then brought his newly-acquired malted knowledge back to Japan and founded his own distillery with business partner Shinjiro Torii in 1923, Yamazaki was born!

SINGLE MALT SCOTCH WHISKY [INDEPENDENT BOTTLERS] —

INDEPENDENT BOTTLERS ARE COMPANIES THAT BUY CASKS OF WHISKY, USUALLY SCOTCH, DIRECTLY FROM DISTILLERIES. DEPENDING ON WHAT'S IN THE CASK — HOW MATURE IT ALREADY WAS WHEN PURCHASED — THEY MIGHT BOTTLE AND RELEASE IT AS IS. BUT MORE COMMONLY, THEY TEND TO AGE THEM FURTHER IN THEIR OWN WAREHOUSES. THESE ARE TRULY UNIQUE EXPRESSIONS AND RARE WHISKIES THAT ARE GENERALLY DONE IN VERY SMALL RUNS.

JAPANESE WHISKY

❁
 A few short years ago, most Japanese whiskies available in the U.S. carried an age statement, such as Suntory Yamazaki 12yr. Yet, the roaring demand from the West and rapidly depleting supply in Japan forced producers to hustle out non-age-statement blends, such as Suntory's Toki or Hibiki's Japanese Harmony bottlings.

❁
 Japanese whisky relies heavily on malted barley that's mashed and distilled twice in pot stills, yielding more residual congeners. Other grain whiskies may be blended in, if it's a single malt.

❁
 Like Scotch, Japanese whisky is wood-aged, sometimes in American oak, sometimes in Sherry casks, and sometimes in Japanese Mizunara oak, which imparts unique characteristics.

Irish whiskey goes through three rounds of distillation before it's bottled. Irish whiskey uses a lot of barley and doesn't have that smoky, burnt-rubber taste that you'll find from the peat that's in Scotch.

Fun fact: legally, Irish whiskey must be aged in Ireland for at least three years in wooden casks to be considered whiskey!

Taiwan is, on average, 27 degrees Fahrenheit warmer than Scotland, and significantly more humid. The warmer temperatures enable better extraction of wood flavors and tannins, while cooler air from Siberia flows in during the winter months to contract barrel staves, improving oxidation and overall flavor.

IRISH WHISKEY

A general description for this whiskey is light and fruity. Traditionally, Irish whiskey is triple distilled in a copper pot, which produces a smoother experience.

According to The French Federation of Spirits, whisky accounts for the highest retail sales of any spirit in France at 47.2 per cent. This is compared to Cognac which makes up only 0.7 per cent of sales.

One large oak tree is said to yield enough wood for approximately three 60-gallon casks.

Rachel Barrie was the first female master whisky blender and has paved the way for even more women joining the industry.

Iceland is home to just two whisky distilleries, both of which use sheep manure in place of coal/peat as a fuel for kilning barley.
