Where to find the best Easter brunch in NYC

Brunch is always a popular weekend ritual, but when spring rolls around, Easter brunch in NYC gets even better. From the best fine dining restaurants to best restaurants in Brooklyn, there are plenty of tasty options for everyone. You can continue the celebration with countless other things to do on Easter weekend in NYC, including the whimsical Easter Parade and Bonnet Festival.

Irvington Gramercy

The Irvington inside the W Union Square sources much of its ingredients across the street at the Greenmarket. You'll find a brunch menu with favorites like roasted leg of lamb with grilled asparagus, crab-and-asparagus Benedict and salads teeming with seasonal ingredients.
