Florida Stone Crab

In 1921, just off the shores of Miami Beach, an exciting discovery was made that would forever change Florida's culinary scene. Stone Crabs, previously unknown as a food source, were introduced to Joe Weiss by a Harvard ichthyologist. Recognizing their potential, Joe quickly began serving stone crab claws at his small restaurant, setting the stage for what would become the legendary dining experience at Joe's Stone Crab.

Food & Drink

At Joe's Stone Crab, we celebrate the rich, iconic flavors of Miami Beach's legendary seafood heritage.

Our event menus shine a spotlight on premium stone crab, fresh seafood, and select prime cuts - each dish thoughtfully crafted to honor the natural excellence of the ingredients.

From artfully crafted appetizers and seasonal specialties to shareable sides and handcrafted desserts, the cuisine at Joe's is designed for gathering, enjoyment, and lasting memories - whether you're hosting a cocktail reception or a formal sit-down dinner.

A top-down view of a room. In the center is a large, square, light green area with a decorative border. Inside this area are two circular light fixtures with floral patterns. Above and below this central area are two large, ornate chandeliers with many small lights. Surrounding the central area are six arched windows, each with a grid pattern. The text "Our Rooms" is written in the center of the image.
