REQUESON 14

Queso fresco, pistachio-basil pesto, green oil, house-made masa madre bread

"Requesón was one of my favorite dishes growing up, it's become a comfort dish. This version brings that memory forward with a pistachio-basil pesto and vibrant green oil, served with our house-made masa madre bread. The herbs and flowers echo the lands I grew up around, where everything was picked by hand and nothing went to waste. It's a tribute to where I come from, and how I cook today."

PRINCIPAL

CECINA 34

Cecina, pinto beans with pork belly, cactus, chiles toreados, avocado, charred onion, corn tortillas

"This dish is a tribute to Yecapixtla, Morelos. A dish I love to have when I am in Mexico, where they grill thin cuts of cecina, then serve them with rich, smoky bens made with pork belly, slab bacon, and chipotle. The cactus salad adds acidity and brightness, and the charred onion and avocado bring depth and softness. It's the kind of plate I love to have when I go to Mexico; rustic, bold, soulful."
