

11 New Restaurants To Try This Fall in New York City

The post-summer dining lineup signals a fresh chapter for New York City's restaurant scene. These are the new openings at the top of our list.

By Rachel Feinblatt | August 31, 2026

Casa Felix

Casa Felix brings the spirit of Mexico City to Manhattan with a lively take on the modern Mexican social house. From Merchants—the hospitality group behind Ophelia, Philippe Chow, Industry Kitchen and Art Bar—the restaurant is rooted in warm hospitality, bold flavors and an after-dark energy that invites guests to linger. Chef Rey Martinez's menu reimagines regional Mexican classics through a contemporary lens, while beverage director Steven Restrepo spotlights an expertly curated collection of tequila, mezcal and agave-forward cocktails. 190 7th Ave., casafelixny.com