

Everything We're Looking Forward to in NYC in November

It's a brand new month and we are ready to jump into the start of the holiday season here beginning in early November! New York City has the best places to find gifts and get into the holiday spirit. It's the most wonderful time of year and it already feels like it in the big apple. With so many fun things both new and annual, you're sure to have the best time here this month. Whether you're a local looking for the biggest events or visiting town in the month of November, you will all love this list of everything New Yorkers are looking forward to this month!

Santa's Winter Wonderland

The Watermark always has such cool pop ups happening over there! Located on Pier 15, they are opening a winter wonderland running November 10th-December 30th. There will be glasshouse dining and a full North Pole setup for photos. Tickets are available now and this is the perfect activity with friends to welcome the holiday season!
