A gorgeous Valley spot for date-night Cali cuisine

This drop-dead-gorgeous, multiple-roomed California-meets-Mediterranean-cuisine restaurant looks almost as if you're in some sort of lavish Prince of Persia scenario. The formerly members-only spot has been through a two-year renovation that's left it with beautiful star-shaped light fixtures sourced from Northern Africa, arched halls that reveal a massive dining room, and a patio area decorated with couches and sheets dangling from the ceiling.

It's a straight-up stunner with a menu to match from world-travelling chef Brendan Mica, who's cooking up 28oz dry aged bone-in ribeye with roasted garlic butter crust and grilled onions and housemade chorizo flatbread with manchego cheese. Of course, the menu will rotate seasonally; expect fresh ingredients leading to more globetrotting cuisine.
