

CHEERS TO YOUR HEALTH.

Commitment to health and wellness is at the very core of what we do. With that, we wanted to update you on some of the measures we're taking to keep you and our team members healthy and happy.

- Expanding procedures to increase the frequency of cleaning and sanitizing, beginning early last week. We're actively sanitizing our tables, chairs, door handles, phones and other shared surfaces throughout the day.
- Providing additional resources that are available to guests and employees including hand sanitizer in every restaurant.
- Requiring anyone who may not be feeling well to stay home and providing sick pay, as always.
- Reiterating to our staff all recommendations for health and safety to ensure that they are well-versed to best practices, most importantly, washing hands for at least 20 seconds, multiple times throughout their shift.
- Replacing shared condiment bottles with individual packets
- Closely monitoring the advice and guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and the World Health Organization.
