Hottest Bars in NYC

Say what you want about NYC's dwindling club scene, but the fact remains: The Big Apple is still the nightlife epicenter of America and possibly the world. In our quarterly update, check out 10 new bars that are currently burning things up with killer cocktails, craft beers and more. Did we miss your favorite new watering hole? Tell us in the comments.

MR. PURPLE

American · Lower East Side

On the 15th floor of the Hotel Indigo Lower East Side, this posh Gerber Group lounge with expansive views flows out onto two terraces (one with a pool). The American menu features simple, moderately priced bar fare including flatbreads and sliders, plus local beers, cold-pressed juices and pricier craft cocktails.

Must-drink: Stormy mule: Brugal anejo rum, ginger beer, fresh lime

Insider tip: Also a hot spot for brunch, Mr. Purple offers dishes like avocado and spring pea toast and Pat La Frieda-sourced sliders.
