The Hottest Rooftop Bars to Visit This Summer

The summer months are just around the corner, so it's time to seek out new rooftop bars. And whether you're looking for great views of the U.S. capital while sipping a cocktail or prefer a Hong Kong-inspired experience in Miami, there are plenty of great establishments to check out around the country. For inspiration, we've rounded up some of the best rooftop bars the U.S. has to offer.

Mr. Purple, NYC

For a trendy night out with friends or a date night destination, Mr. Purple has you covered. Situated on the 15th floor of the Hotel Indigo on the Lower East Side, this rooftop bar offers up Instagrammable views of Manhattan and a swimming pool located on its largest balcony. Guests will find an impressive list of specialty and classic cocktails -- try the eponymous Mr. Purple or the Irish Mule -- and a decently sized list of all-day bar bites, from tuna tartare and franks in a blanket to grilled cheese. They also do brunch, featuring classics like omelets (using cage-free eggs) and smashed avocado on toast, in addition to drinks packages -- great for splitting if you're in a larger group.
