THE CAMPBELL BAR

Vanderbilt Avenue

Gerber Group is reopening The Campbell Bar and Terrace, after a complete restoration, directed by the internationally acclaimed design and architecture firm, Ingrao, Inc. Located directly off Vanderbilt Avenue, adjacent to Cipriani Dolci, The Campbell Bar features an expansive collection of spirits, wines, and locally brewed craft beers. Gerber Group's selections of classic and modern cocktails are complimented by a menu of elevated bar fare. The Campbell Bar is also open for lunch daily at 12PM, serving soups, salads, and sandwiches.

WHAT'S NEW

Artisanal breads, European cosmetics, stir-fry classics, and the return of The Campbell Bar this spring.

BIEN CUIT

Grand Central Market

Artisanal Brooklyn bakery Bien Cuit brings its nationally recognized baked goods to its new location in Grand Central Market. With an emphasis on time-honored baking techniques and a creative use of alternative grains, Bien Cuit delivers traditional breads, refined pastries, and original desserts. The new space in the Market features cakes, tarts, and éclairs among the sweet and savory baked snacks, as well as the bakery's signature breads.

RITUALS

Lexington Passage

Newly opened in the Lexington Passage, Rituals Cosmetics is a unique luxury lifestyle brand. Created in Paris in 2000 by a passionate international team of top talents from the perfume and design industry, it is the number one bath and body brand in Europe. Rituals helps you slow down and find happiness in the smallest of things. It is their passion to turn everyday routines into more meaningful rituals.

WOK CHI

Lower Level Dining Concourse

Florida-based Wok Chi opens its second New York location in the Terminal this spring, bringing its fast-casual Asian stir-fry concept and fresh dim sum to the Lower Level Dining Concourse. Wok Chi defies Chinese take-out misconceptions with healthful and flavorful stir-fry classics, clean ingredients, fresh dim sum, and desserts – promising “no batter, just what matters,” and bringing good energy (“Chi”) and a great experience to its guests.
