CHEERS TO THE NIGHT
Shake up drinks worthy of each of the Best Picture nominees

The gift, the glamour, the celebrity crowd — none of these things will be yours to partake in this Oscar Sunday, but don’t let that stop you from drinking like a star. Inspired by the diverse picks for Best Picture, we’ve created a cocktail menu to complement this year’s nominees. Much like the nine films up for the big award, there’s something here for everyone. Cheers!

Rob Roy

Cosmic Force
MIDNIGHT

In a mixer with ice, combine 2 ½ ozs. high-quality scotch (such as Lagavulin), ¾ oz. sweet vermouth, ¾ oz. raspberry liqueur (such as Chambord) and 3 dashes bitters.

Strain into rocks glass over fresh ice.
Recipe by Kia Tilmom Williams

Denzel Washington plays a father who wants his son to boldly step up on his own. And that sentiment, says mixologist Kia Tilmom Williams of the Viceroy hotel’s rooftop bar, the Roof, calls for “a bold and masculine cocktail” like this one.

In a mixer with ice, combine 2 ½ ozs. high-quality scotch (such as Lagavulin), ¾ oz. sweet vermouth, ¾ oz. raspberry liqueur (such as Chambord) and 3 dashes bitters.

Strain into rocks glass over fresh ice.
Recipe by Kia Tilmom Williams