

TACO Electrico

February 21, 2019

EAT & DRINK

Magical

place for muggles

Inside E. Village's 'Harry' coffee shop

A "Harry Potter"-inspired coffee shop called Steamy Hallows officially opened its doors on Wednesday, introducing a small world of Gothic oddities and "Harry Potter" flare to the East Village.

The shop at 514 3/4 E. Sixth St. is full of shrunken heads, old taxidermy like a 75-year-old stuffed owl and an actual bat, real witch potions and an Irish cauldron from the 1700s that steams in the window all day.

We went to its grand opening on Wednesday to get a glimpse into the spooky space. Here's what you'll find inside.

Steamy Hallows on East Sixth Street offers a wealth of "Harry P..."

GERBER GROUP

Get $7 margs at Taco Electrico.

Get $7 margs at Taco Electrico.

Margarita Specials

Friday is National Margarita Day, so take advantage of these deals at bars and restaurants that day:

Hudson Bar

Get half-price on all of its margaritas (normally $16) at the Hudson Hotel bar, near Columbus Circle. Heat up with a cucumber jalapeño margarita or try the signature Casamigos margarita. Other favorites include a blackberry pimper margarita or pineapple juice-based La Fina. 258 W. 58th St.

Ed's Lobster Bar

Hit up the SoHo spot at happy hour to get half off its margaritas (normally $12), which are all made with Espolon Blanco tequila. Try the chili-fish, blueberry or classic margarita. 252 Lafayette St.

Taco Electrico

The Union Square bar is throwing a party with Casamigos tequila starting at 10 p.m. Enjoy $7 cocktails plus passed tacos for an hour. 201 Park Ave. S.

Bodega Negra at Dream Downtown

The upscale Mexican eatery in Chelsea extends happy hour all evening, with menu items ranging from $5 to $9 and specialty margaritas offered at half-price. Try the chicken tostadas paired with a Cadillac (made with Valdez Oaxaca tequila and Grand Marnier) or classic margaritas. 355 W. 30th St. @www.bodeganegra.com

Will you see your future in this crystal ball?

Taco Electrico

The Union Square bar is throwing a party with Casamigos tequila starting at 10 p.m. Enjoy $7 cocktails plus passed tacos for an hour. 201 Park Ave. S.

Three bartender-approved

The George Washington Bar at the ProGrand Hotel in Flatiron is all about homegrown drinks.

Its new cocktail list, which launched last week, heavily features classics originally created in the United States (think the martini, old fashioned and New York sour).

The year-old hotel bar is also making an effort to

lic spirit producer

from New York City

State at large.

For your own

three must have a

top-notch cocktail,

and may be getting

Washington Bar's head bartender,

Tristan Brunel

Shakesbury Dry Cider

"This dry cider from upstate works

Looking for

in a classic

is Shakesbury

in perfect-

igh plays

dry with my

and the big citrus notes are a huge plus."

@www.shakesbury.com

GE...
www.globa...
RESID...
AND CON...
MORTGA...
212.98...
718.71...
855.56...
8 City...
New York...
37-20 F...
Flushing...
FDN...

POL...
READ...
A SPL...
PA...

E I...
C

amNewYork, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 2019 amny.com