10 Can't-Miss New York Rooftops for Happy Hour

Whether you just crushed your presentation, are meeting with a client over a late lunch, or are just looking to bond with your coworkers over cocktails and views, these 10 NYC rooftops will have you feeling on top of the world.

Mr. Purple

This posh poolside terrace lies on the 15th floor of Hotel Indigo on the Lower East Side. When it's not swarming with well-dressed New Yorkers, luxury brands like Moët & Chandon like to rent it out to host parties.

The vibe: Swanky and hip. An ideal spot for a classy post-work drink or after-dinner cocktail. It gets busy, so get there on the early side or reserve a table ahead of time.

What to order: The Girl Next Door – Grey goose, mint, blackberries, lemon juice, and soda water.
