AN UNTOURISTY TAKE ON THE CITY THAT NEVER SLEEPS

GOVERNORS ISLAND

If you're in the mood for a unique experience, Collective Retreats is launching a new venture that will bring the first-ever seasonal overnight accommodations experience to New York City's historic Governors Island. Part wilderness experience, part luxury getaway, select from a variety of full hotel-style service accommodations and options, including private en-suite bathroom luxury tents. Equipped with rain-style hot showers and beautiful, spacious sink and vanity spaces, this is not your average camping experience. On-site dining is offered at the retreat's Three Peaks Lodge, where you can choose the special chef farm-to-table-style dinner, served under the stars with views of the Statue of Liberty and New York Harbor.

MR. PURPLE

For an interesting place for a nightcap, look no further than the rooftop at Mr. Purple, located at the Indigo Hotel on the Lower East Side. Bring your swimsuit and take an unforgettable late-night plunge in the pool, cocktail in hand. mrpurplenyc.com

BLACK TAP

After dinner, Black Tap is the perfect stop for dessert. World-class, whimsical milkshakes will make you feel like a kid again, served in a small, casually hip space. The Cake Shake, which tends to sell out fast and is arguably the most popular on the menu, comes with a vanilla-frosted rim covered in rainbow sprinkles, a slice of funfetti cake (we're serious), whipped cream, and a cherry to top it off. blacktapnyc.com
