

July 2, 2018

Time Out

Time Out's Hot Spots in NYC

The newest restaurant and bar openings, menu changes and happenings around NYC

New York City might be the city that never sleeps, but it's also the city that never sits still. Our culinary scene is so dynamic precisely because our finnickier taste buds are constantly changing, evolving and demanding more from our cheap eats, iconic restaurants and even Michelin-starred spots. Throughout the city, we get the best bar and restaurant openings, revolving chefs and spruced-up menus on a daily basis. We're here to update you on all the latest changes in the food and drink world in NYC.

Taco Electrico

The team behind Mr. Purple and the Campbell bar opens this Mexico City-inspired taqueria and bar right off Union Square. Wash down tacos and small plates with margaritas and sangria inside the colorful space with neon walls, LED signage and rattan swings.

