The countdown to Pi Day is on!

March 14, or 3/14, is the date math enthusiasts look forward to every year because it matches the first three digits of pi, the ratio of a circle's circumference to its diameter, which is about 3.14159, and, oh, some 50 trillion more digits after that, according to pi.day.org.

The House of Representatives designated Pi Day a national holiday in 2009 to encourage schools to teach students about the mathematical concept through fun activities.

But for those of us more into noshing than numbers, it's as good an excuse as any to celebrate circular foods such as well, pie, of course!

However, Pi Day falls on a Friday this year, making it the perfect opportunity to feed your infinite love of another kind of pie — pizza — in all of its hot, fresh, cheesy, saucy, toppings-filled, crispy crust glory.

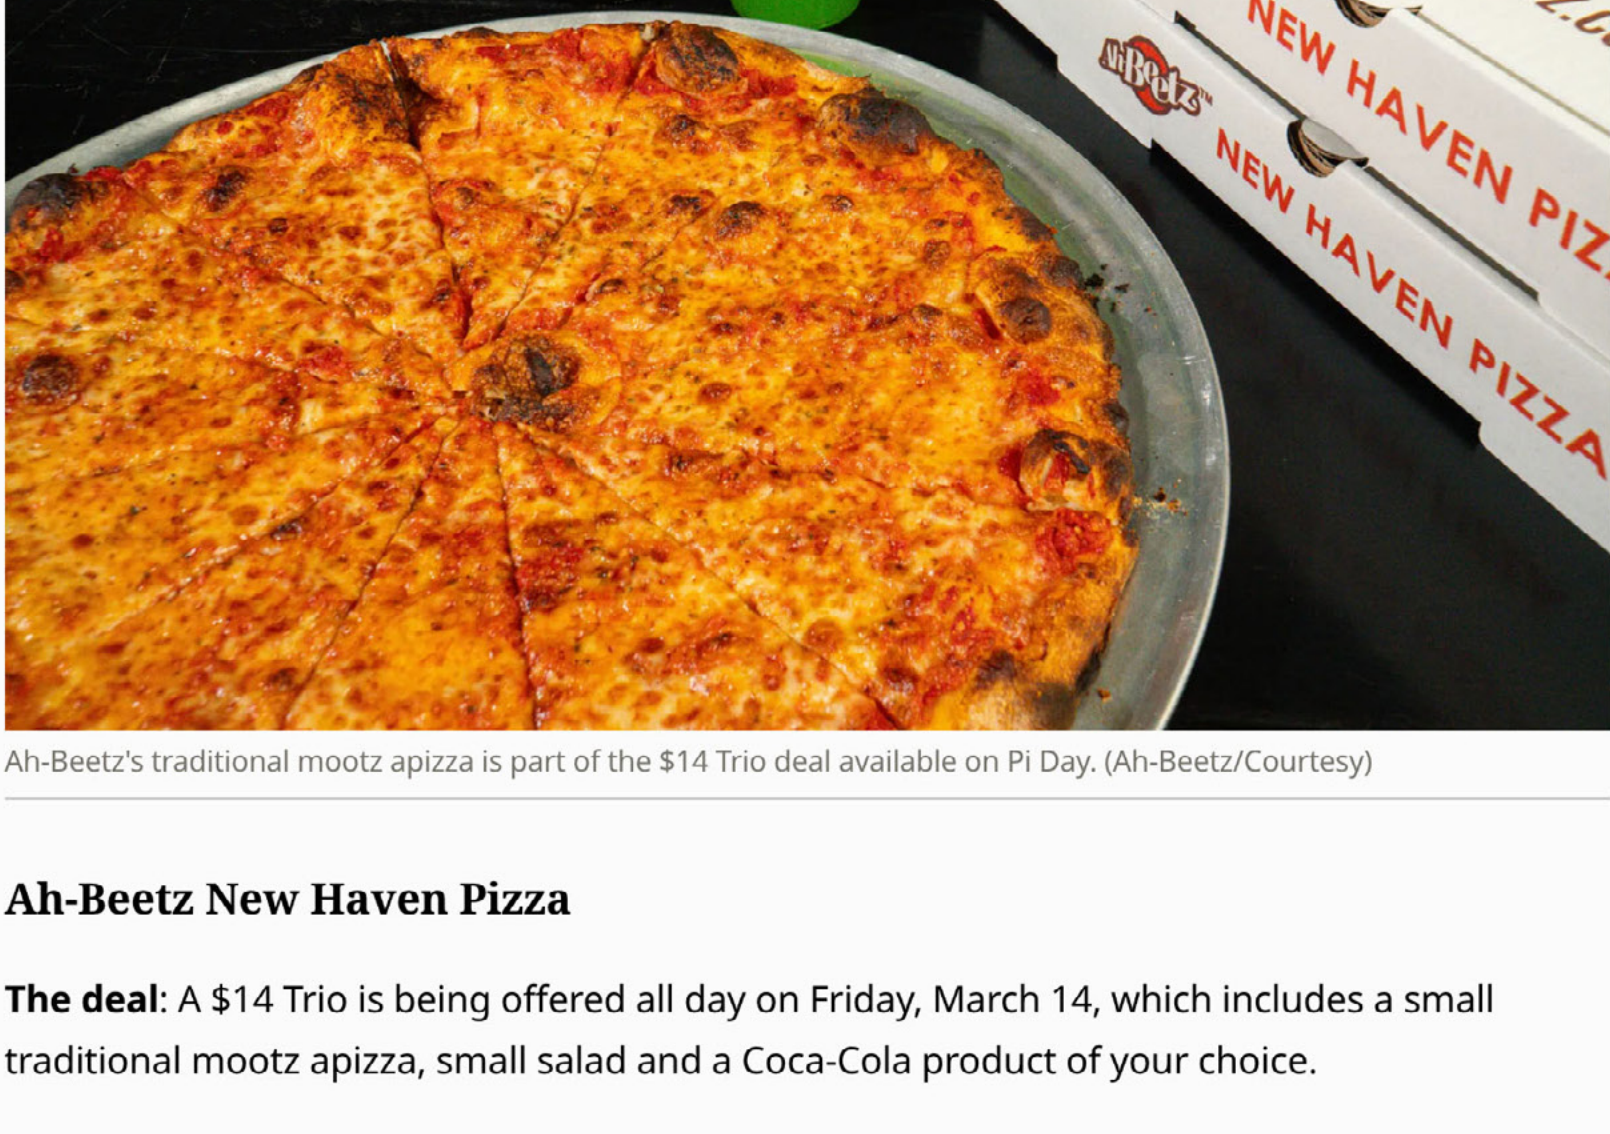

Pizza joints throughout South Florida will be serving up deals to help you save while you savor a slice — or a whole pie (who's counting?)
