

2019 Winter Classes at URBANSPACE 570 LEX

BEER 101

1/28, 2/25, 3/26

Have you ever wondered what the difference is between an Ale and a Lager? How about a Dry Stout or a Foreign Stout? What is beer actually made from? Wonder no more as we run through the basics of beer and introduce you to the major beer styles. We'll discuss everything from the American Adjunct Lager to the Imperial Stout in this introduction to the wonderful world of beer. Whether you're already a beer lover or you're just dipping your toe in the water, we welcome you to join us for some fun times and fun brews.

BABY IT'S COLD OUTSIDE: WINTER BEERS

1/30, 2/20, 3/5

As the temperatures drop and the threat of snow increases, we all seek the warm embrace of a particular kind of beer. A winter warmer you might say. Let's cuddle together and explore these beers and keep the frost at bay.

HOPS

1/29, 2/27, 3/27

Take a journey into the world of hops. We will explore what hop varieties taste like from all regions of the world: European "noble" hops to the new popular American varieties. We will look at the influences new hops have had on the styles of IPAs being brewed, and take a look at how modern brewing techniques have enhanced the hop flavors everyone craves today. Beers may include examples from local American producers and some old forgotten favorites as well.

Classes led by Top Hops' own Kevin Brooks.
Mondays, Tuesdays or Wednesdays from 6:00 to 7:00pm.
$40 per class. Includes beer tastes.
Class is limited to 12 students.

Email beer@tophops.com to register and pay.

Top Hops reserves the right to cancel any and all classes due to scheduling conflict, illness or poor attendance. Attendees of cancelled classes will be given a full refund and at least 24 hours notice whenever possible.
