Oscars viewing parties in NYC: Where to watch the award show

This year's Oscars is jam-packed with nominated films that have rocked us ("Bohemian Rhapsody"), thrilled us ("Black Panther") and made us weep ("A Star is Born"). But, there are only a few that will actually take home the title of "best."

It all comes to a head on Feb. 24, when the 91st Academy Awards -- set to air at 8 p.m. on ABC -- brings out Hollywood's finest to the red carpet as stars vie for the coveted titles of best actor, best actress and more.

So, grab a front-row seat at these bars, restaurants and theaters to see how well your favorite flick of the year -- from "Roma" to "The Favourite" -- fares on Oscars night.

Mr. Purple

Mr. Purple's "Clicquot Chalet" winter pop-up is offering $15 themed cocktails, like the "Bohemian Rhapsody" (rosemary infused Cynar, Barolo and clubs oda with Chandon Brut) and complimentary popcorn for its viewing party, which will project the show on a large screen.
