9 Mixology Experiences in New York

New York is a city full of everything. It's full of places to eat, full of places to shop, and in this case, full of places to drink. No matter which part of the city you find yourself in, there is bound to be a good bar around the corner, whether it's street level, on a rooftop or underground. Whatever kind of experience you're looking for, you've come to the right place.

Mr. Purple - Lower East Side

If you haven't heard of Mr. Purple, you might be living under a rock... or simply just above ground. Let us explain: Mr. Purple is one of the city's most popular and lively rooftop bars, located at the top of a Lower East Side hotel. With breathtaking views of the city, from the Empire State Building to One World Trade Center, Mr. Purple can best be enjoyed right when the sun is going down. Choose from their vast menu of spirits, cocktails and craft beers, and get a spot outside for sunset views and people watching.
