welcome to the brownstone

The Brownstone Pancake Factory is the culmination of one family's thriving love for the food business and vision for a unique atmosphere so hard to duplicate. The secret recipe has been simple — family with a side of whimsy that started in the 60's. Peter and Irene bought a tiny subway car diner in downtown Jersey City, New Jersey. Being born in Greece, they didn't even know what a pancake was, but they had a crazy idea to come up with unique pancake variations. With some tasty crafting, a winning recipe was born. The dream grew with their family as each child learned early on that hard work meant weekends at the family diner as a cook, server, busser, cashier and everything in between. Over the years, customers have seen the family grow up and witnessed that the very underpinning of the dream was made possible by family working together and a genuine love for their customers and community.

With a desire to expand his family's dream, Bobby created and rebranded the Brownstone Pancake Factory into its new location in Edgewater, New Jersey with his wife Vanessa who shares his love for food and restaurant design. Striving to grow as customer tastes have grown, Bobby has brought surprises and creativity to diner fare. With the birth of the new boss in town - little man Telly - the Englewood Cliffs location opened next. You will often see the little boss working the floor giving his daddy insane-shake-of-the-week suggestions! With Bobby's sister Maria joining the team, Brownstone's third location expanded to the famous Jersey shore in Brick, home to an indoor life size Volkswagen bus and doughnut bar! Furthering our footprint in central Jersey, Freehold opened next housing the bewilderment of a merry-go-round carousel and more of our renowned cakes and shakes!

Our family story is unique and we hope that your experience here is equally so. Sometimes, our music is a little too loud, our insane shakes are a bit gluttonous and our employees are having just as much fun being here as you are. Just as our family thought outside the box decades ago, we hope that you find we've created that same over-the-top destination here.

We hope your experience at Brownstone Pancake Factory makes you leave your worries at the door as you dine here. Our #foodgoals are that you leave craving a good nap and some quality cuddle time. Life is short, play with your food. Have fun with your loved ones and just unleash a little. Know that it is truly our privilege to have you here. We hope you enjoy your time with us!

Before the opening of our Freehold, Brick, Edgewater and Englewood Cliffs locations, the original Brownstone Pancake Factory was located in Jersey City.

Our family's legacy began there over a half century ago! It is where the recipe behind our buttermilks was created.

The recipe remains unwritten and exclusive to our family and a few trusted employees, but the taste continues to be shared with our Brownstone family —— you!
