

The restaurant is a tribute to our parents and families. It is thanks to them that we have inherited an unconditional passion and dedication to hospitality that is reflected in every detail you see here at Arthur's Restaurant. From the moment we say hello all the way to the final bite of cheesecake, we have invested our efforts in ensuring this experience provokes a feeling of nostalgia, reminiscent of the memories we've shared with the ones we love most - we dedicate this to you.

MARTINIS

VESPER 3oz - 17

beefeater, absolut, lillet blanc

This drink was made famous by Ian Fleming's James Bond. It was said to have been first recorded in the 1953 book 'Casino Royale', where Bond popularized the phrase 'shaken not stirred', as was his preference for drinks.

OLIVE OIL MARTINI 3oz - 17

absolut, dolin dry, olive oil

A nuanced take on the traditional vodka martini, where we infuse the vodka with the peppery, grassy notes of olive oil.

GIBSON 3oz - 17

beefeater, dolin dry, house pickled pearl onion

The nebulous origins of the Gibson seem to date back to the turn of the 20th century, with anyone of the last name 'Gibson' laying claim to its creation. Served with Arthur's house pickled onion.

STAR COCKTAIL 3oz - 19

applejack, dolin rouge, sirop de citron, angostura

The quintessential American spirit, Applejack was used in colonial New Jersey as currency to pay road construction crews, leading to the slang name 'Jersey Lightning'. Highlighting this venerated spirit, the 'Star Cocktail' was said to have been created in the 1870s in New York's legendary Manhattan Club.

TURF CLUB 3oz - 15

beefeater, dolin rouge, angostura

The first written appearance of the 'Turf Club' appeared in the 1884 edition of 'How to Mix Drinks Barkeepers' Handbook'. The name refers to the style of club catering to gentlemen of the day. These clubs were popular in the late 1800s and early 1900s, where affluent men would gather to dine, partake in tipple, and gamble with a penchant for the horses.

ARTHUR'S CLASSICS

CLOVER CLUB 17

beefeater, dolin dry, raspberry, grenadine, pistachio orgeat, lemon, egg white

This variation on the pre-prohibition era 'Clover Club' highlights the creamy, frothy mouth feel of this fruit forward classic. The 'Clover Club' got its creation from the Philadelphia based, all-male salon of lawyers and writers of the same name.

TORONTO 15

lot 40, fernet branca, angostura, sugar syrup, lemon twist

The key component of Canadian whisky suggests this drink is aptly named the 'Toronto Cocktail'. The first mention of this recipe was as the 'Fernet Cocktail' in Robert Vermeire's 1922 edition of 'Cocktails: How to Mix Them', in which he states that the "cocktail is much appreciated by the Canadians of Toronto".

OLD PAL 16

wiser's deluxe, campari, dolin dry

The recipe for this drink was said to have been conceived of by Harry MacElhone of Harry's New York Bar in Paris, and published in his 1922 book 'Harry's ABC of Mixing Cocktails'. Harry's New York Bar in Paris was popular amongst American tourists, expats, and celebrities looking to imbibe overseas during prohibition years.

BOULEVARDIER 18

bourbon, campari, dolin rouge

American-born Erskine Gwynne is credited with creating the Boulevardier cocktail during his time living abroad at the height of the Prohibition. Gwynne was founder and editor of a literary magazine called Boulevardier — a Parisian New Yorker of sorts — which is where the signature cocktail gets its name. With similar ingredients to a negroni, the cocktail was once described as its "long-lost autumnal cousin".

SOUTH SIDE 17

beefeater, seedlip garden, mint, lime, sugar syrup

With nods towards the Mojito and the Daiquiri, one of the earliest recorded iterations of the South Side is from 1913. Although the origins of this drink are highly contested, one of the more colourful stories is that the drink was the preferred beverage of Al Capone, whose gang dominated Chicago's South Side. This variation containing the vegetal notes of Seedlip Garden brings out the botanicals of the gin and freshness of the mint.

CORPSE REVIVER #2 14

beefeater, lillet blanc, cointreau, lemon, absinthe mist

The 'Corpse Reviver' appears in literature as early as an issue of 'Punch' in 1861. The Corpse Reviver family of cocktails is intended as 'hair of the dog' hangover cures, hence the name. In the 1930 'Savoy Cocktail Book' it is stated that "Four of these taken in swift succession will unrevive the corpse again".

BAMBOO 14

fino sherry, dolin dry, angostura, orange bitters, sirop de citron

Light and flavourful, the Bamboo cocktail was said to have been created in the 1890s at the Grand Hotel In Yokohama, Japan by German bartender Louis Eppinger.

ARTHUR'S MANHATTAN 18

dried cherry infused bourbon, dolin rouge, cynar, cardamom bitters, angostura

This is the Arthur's take on a sustaining classic, featuring house infused bourbon, and the herbaceous notes of Cynar. The history of the 'Manhattan' goes back to the 1870s with claims that it was created at New York's Manhattan Club.

SAZERAC 16

rye, peychaud's, absinthe, sugar syrup

Original recipes stated the 'Sazerac' to be made with Cognac, but Rye is one of the most popular iterations of this spirit forward drink. Some claim it is the oldest known American cocktail, with origins in pre-Civil War New Orleans. In 2008 it was deemed the official cocktail of New Orleans.

SCREWDRIVER 15

absolut, orange juice

A quintessential cocktail, well venerated in the global cocktail vernacular, done in Arthur's fashion with fresh pressed oranges. The Screwdriver was found in writing as early as 1938. One popular story of naissance suggests that the drink was dubbed so by American oil workers who, in lieu of a spoon, stirred the drink with a screwdriver.
