

EATER

CHICAGO

Monday, July 29, 2019

Where to Eat Brunch in Chicago Right Now, August 2019

Behold, the 20 hottest brunch restaurants in Chicago

7. Machine

1846 W Division St
Chicago, IL 60622

(312) 549-8740

Visit Website

Flowers and brunch are an unusual, yet compelling, combination at this Wicker Park spot. Owners Brian Galati and Chireal Jordan, the duo behind Headquarters Beercade, have transformed the former Taus Authentic space into a sleek American restaurant and flower shop. It serves creative cocktails from Violet Hour vet Aneka Saxon and Midwestern-inspired dishes like pork croquettes, an al-pastor-style portabella sandwich, and short rib with Brussels sprouts. Diners can also build their own flower bouquets from a cart and have them delivered to the table.

