Nautilus Pier 4's "Nauti Garden" Patio is Back for the Season

Ever since setting sail from Nantucket and dropping anchor in the Seaport in 2021, Nautilus Pier 4 has offered seafood-focused fare — plus a feast of whole roasted duck with warm buns, ginger scallion rice, and a host of accompaniments — right on the water. Now, its foliage-shrouded patio, called the “Nauti Garden,” is open for the warmer months.

At Nautilus, the return of patio weather — whether you like your patios to be delightful hidden gems, or sheltered alcoves in case of the rain — calls for a refresh of the drink menu. Four new drinks join the robust menu of cocktails, wine, sake and beer: Zaiquiri's daiquiri with rum, pistachio, orgeat and lime; the rhubarbra streisand with amaro, organic vermouth, and rhubarb; the blueberry and soda with Triple Eight blueberry vodka, lemon and spicy ginger; and the Clinton's lost loves with bourbon, purple basil, lemon, and spicy ginger.

Elsewhere for some elixirs al fresco, Night Shift Brewing reopened their beer gardens on the Esplanade. The patio at Eastie's Pazza on Porter is officially open, too, and the Italian spot is now slinging lunch on Fridays, plus $1 oysters from noon to 4 p.m.
