SPUNTINO SELECTS

Didier Chaffardon

Didier Chaffardon is a wine producer based in Anjou in France's Loire Valley, originally from Savoie, and known for his deeply expressive, low-intervention wines. After working for years with pioneering natural winemakers in Anjou, he founded his own small domaine in 2005, farming roughly three hectares organically and biodynamically. His wines are fermented with native yeasts and made with minimal sulfur or manipulation, resulting in textured, soulful bottlings prized for their intensity, energy, and individuality.

The L'Indolent is a slightly effervescent and unfined chenin blanc that is fresh, yet rich, with a subtle "vin jaune" character. This wine is for fans of the adventurous and off-beat.
