

EXPERIENCE THE CHARM OF HISTORIC DINING

For 130 years, this historic district has been home to local businesses, social clubs and organizations committed to the vibrancy and vitality of this charming town square.

Originally home to a supplier of stoves, ranges, and plumbing supplies — it seems food prep runs in the bones of this historic building — the historic Castor Building dates back to 1895 when William H. Castor expanded his sights from farming to retail.

And the rest is history.

Grindstone Public House strives to honor the legacy of the Castor, as well as the storied past of downtown Noblesville in every dish and drink we serve. But of course, we'll let you be the judge. Have a seat. And order up.
