The 15 best rooftop restaurants in NYC

From crispy Peking duck to Peruvian-inspired bar snacks, here are the best rooftop restaurants NYC to check out

Among your favorite things to do in spring, eating and drinking skyrockets to the top of the list. Luckily, elevated dining takes on a new meaning at the best rooftop restaurants NYC has to offer. While these restaurants may fall into the best rooftop bars in NYC category, some also have the best pools in NYC or simply serve the most thirst-quenching summer drinks to complement the food.

The Roof

Midtown West

It's always a happening scene at the Viceroy, whether you're in the hotel lobby or on The Roof, which offers a spacious lounge and outdoor terrace that gives you a handsome view of Central Park from the south end. A glass of rosé or a cocktail in hand with a bunch of small plates is the way to go.
