TOWN & COUNTRY

New York City's Christmas-Themed Bars Will Keep You Merry and Bright

Christmas in New York City is a well-trodden tradition. But now you can add a visit to a Christmas-themed bar to the ranks of the Radio City Christmas Spectacular and the tree in Rockefeller Center. Below, a look at a few of the venues around town that really get in the holiday spirit—along with some of the drinks they serve.

Winter Room at the Roof

Fondue, Belvedere-spiked hot chocolate, and Central park views are a few of the highlights at the holiday version of this popular Midtown watering hole whose rooftop is enclosed and heated during the winter months. The seating areas are also filled with comfy pillows and fuzzy blankets to keep guests warm.
