This mindfully curated list pays homage to winemakers and the passion that motivates them.

In a glass there is more than grapes or simply wine, there is also a story of people coming together. The winemakers, through their wine, convey terroir, personality, and emotions to present nature at its best.

We encourage you to explore and travel through these stories; there is always something new and exciting to connect with.

Exclusive Austrian Schnapps Rochelt - Tyrolean Distillery - [375ml served by the ounce]

"As a small, family owned business, Rochelt specializes in the production of first-class unfiltered Schnapps from the finest fruits. All natural, this exquisite elixir is only served by the ounce, the trademark bottle derived from the traditional Tyrolean "pincer bottle", which was developed over 250 years ago in a little town outside Innsbruck (Tyrol), called Hall.

Alexander Rainer, Gunter's son in law, has been active in the family business since 2003 and learned the art of distillation first hand under Gunter's mentorship. Alexander now runs the family business with the support of the three Rochelt daughters: Julia, Annia and Teresa."

Made from orchard and stone fruits

2923 Apple Gravensteiner Apfel NV 54
"The Gravenstein apple is highly aromatic and precious apple of outstanding quality. After natural fermentation and double distillation the precious so-called middle cut rests for a min. of 6 years in open glass balloons. Soft, fragrant, clean."

2922 Quince Quitte NV 65
"The quince is called "Ronda" and comes from Upper Austria. It matures for a minimum of 6 yrs, a unique sought after brandy full of aromatic honey flavors."

2925 Morello Cherry Weichsel NV 49
"Cultivated in the regions of southern Styria (Austria) the cherries are hand-picked when they have ripened to perfection. After naturally fermenting and distilling the mash twice in copper pot stills, it matures in open glass balloons for a min. of 4 yrs."

2924 Basel Cherry Basler Kirsche NV 55
"Two kinds of cherries: "Basler Langstieler" and "Dollesseppler", both cultivated in the Basel region in Switzerland. Heart-shaped, brownish-red, juicy, sweet cherries. It matures in open glass balloons for a min. of 5 yrs. The Basel cherry brandy is highly desired for its compact, aromatic flavors."

Made from rare varieties

2929 Black Elderberry Schwarzer Holunder NV 48
"Black elderberries are a rare and treasured specialty edible only after processing. Cultivated in Lower Austria, hand-picked, the berries are carefully distilled twice in copper pot stills. 1 liter requires up to 55 kg (120 pounds) of berries, aged 8 yrs."

2928 Muscat Muskattraube NV 50
"The Muscat grapes are grown and harvested under ideal climate conditions in the Austrian region of Burgenland. Aged for 7 yrs.fresh floral Muscat flavors, "100% pure and unfiltered."

2927 Gewürztraminer NV 60
"Named after the village Tramin in southern Tyrol, this high-grade white grape demands the best sites, but only yields small quantities of high quality grapes. Seductive, aromatic flavors, this Gewürztraminer brandy is a particular and rare specialty, aged 8yrs."

2926 Wild Raspberry Waldhimbeere NV 78
"The raspberries grow in the wilds of the Carpathian forests have an intense scent. We solely carry this flavor, it is aged a min. of 3 yrs. Up to 50kg (110 pounds) of wild raspberries are used to produce 1 litre of this precious brandy."

Champagne

" The "Special Club" or "The Club Trésors" comprises 28 artisan wine makers, selected from the finest areas of the Champagne region, each one recognized for the quality of their work. It is the only organisation in Champagne to select its members according to a set of unrelenting quality standards.

Each wine maker must make their champagnes entirely in his, or her, own premises and cellars. Furthermore the champagne must be made exclusively from grapes harvested in his, or her, own vineyards.

The jury of oenologists and wine professionals who select the champagnes, demand irreproachable quality as regards both the work in the vineyard and the wines.

Each champagne is subject to two blind tastings (once at the still wine stage before bottling and again after 3 years ageing in bottle) by a panel of passionate and distinguished oenologists and wine makers.

A Special Club champagne may only be made in outstanding vintage years.

Only wine makers who have successfully passed these two tests are deemed worthy of putting their chosen champagne in the unique 'Special Club' bottle which may not be used by anyone except the members of the Club Trésors.

Obtaining this 'Holy Grail' is a true accolade and one that requires daily dedication and application by the wine maker."

Rosé Champagne

"For 26 years François Domi has run the cellars at Billecart-Salmon, a 19th century champagne producer which sells 1.5 to two million bottles. His view on rosé champagne has an advantage over white: "It adds colour to the table – and it softens the image of champagne, it makes it more genial."

Mr Domi doses the red wine until he achieves just the right colour and aroma, nothing too tannic, the aim being a champagne with a slight hint of dried fruit and strawberry."

André Clouet

"Jean-François Clouet, who was born and raised in Bouzy, still lives in the 18th century village house built by his ancestors. As his family were the official printers to Louis XV's Royal Court at Versailles, Jean-Francois takes great pride in his family lineage. He is also well aware of the influence his family has contributed to the grand and tumultuous history of the region. Acknowledging the privilege and significance of his standing, he strives to continually improve upon the estate and wines by drawing from its past as well as implementing changes that ultimately improve the quality of his wines. The domaine's 8ha (20 acres) of Grand Cru vineyards are situated in the coveted middle slopes of Ambonnay and Bouzy. They make a full range of Champagnes, culminating in the glorious Cuvée 1911, which is comprised of 100% Pinot Noir from Clouet's ten best lieux-dits in Bouzy. The production of each successive release is limited to 1911 bottlesh and dried fruuits with freshness from more recent vintage wines."

Alsace

"Alsatian wine is all about aromas. Floral and peachy smells fly out of the glass and many of the wines are unctuous enough to pair nicely with savory fowl, like roast quail. Alsace wines give the tingle of brilliant acidity but also offer a rich texture from moderate alcohol (some wines are 14 – 15% ABV). The producers in Alsace do not use oak aging to add spice and richness, instead they rely on a balance of ripeness and alcohol to fill out the flavor."

Domaine Albert Boxler in Niedermorschwihr

"Few domaines in France embody this way of life more ably and proudly than Domaine Albert Boxler in Niedermorschwihr. Jean Boxler, many generations removed from his ancestor of the same name that moved here from Switzerland in 1673, currently rules the roost at this humble yet incredibly exciting domaine.

The wines from Domaine Boxler shine due to their finesse, purity, complexity and ... all the other things that characterize great wines. Even better, since Jean Boxler manages to obtain mature fruit in the cooler years as well as to maintain firm acidity the warmer vintages, a Boxler wine will never ever let you down.

The family's holdings are centered around the ancient village of Niedermorschwihr in the Haut-Rhin, dominated by the imposing granite hillside grand cru, Sommerberg. Jean vinifies micro-parcels within this cru separately, de-classifying some into his Réserve wines and producing multiple bottlings of Sommerberg from the different lieux-dits depending on the vintage. Sommerberg gives racy, intensely structured, very long-lived wines. Riesling, Pinot Gris, and Pinot Blanc are the specialties of the domaine, Jean also produces one of Alsace's best Crémants (and Edelzwickers), an incredible Gewurztraminer grown in limestone, and some of the most hauntingly pure Vendanges Tardives and SGNs in all of Alsace. If that weren't enough, the Boxlers also own land in the powerful grand cru Brand, the ultimate counterpart to their holdings in Sommerberg."

Alsace - Hommage to Domaine F.E Trimbach

The viticultural origin of the Trimbach Family dates back to 1626. For almost four hundred years, the Trimbach Family has been promoting Alsace and its History, its exceptional terroirs and fine wines. Located in the heart of Ribeauville, where today three generations work closely together, the family vineyard is now led by Hubert Trimbach, nephews Jean and Pierre, and his daughter Anne, the eldest of the 13th generation. The Trimbachs have a purist vision. The family has always produced wines that are very structures, long-lived, fruity, elegant and balanced: the celebrated Trimbach style.

A note from Jean Trimbach...

"Dear passionate lovers of Trimbach wines : Our family is thrilled to offer you at « Gabriel » one of the greatest selection of our wines. Alsatian wines can age.....please try some of these and discover the complexity of matured Riesling, Gewürztraminer and Pinot Gris, which produced in very good or exceptional vintages from the best « Grands Crus » or « Greatest Terroirs » age beautifully.

"The Mirabelle plums are pitted and crushed. Fermentation begins at temperature control between 22º and 25º followed by distillation in copper alambics at a minimum temperature of 60º. The aroma and the taste of the original fruit is extracted and conserved during the distillation process using steam heated stills. Distillation is a single continuous process with the elimination of the initial "head" and final "tail" distillate in order to keep only the best of the distillation called the "heart." The Mirabelle Brandy then undergoes aging in stainless steel for a minimum of 16 months."

Hommage to Domaine Valentin Zusslin

Marie et Jean-Paul Zusslin

"Located in Orschwihr, south of Colmar, and established in 1691 by M. Jodocus Cisle (the former name of Zusslin), Domaine Valentin Zusslin is run by the 13th generation of the family, Marie Zusslin and her brother, Jean-Paul, who is chief winemaker. The conversion to 100% biodynamic farming in 1997 was under the direction of their late father, Jean-Marie Zusslin, whom his family called "a man of the earth, proud of his roots and always listening to nature." The domaine is certified by Demeter, Ecocert and Biodyvin.

Most of the domaine's 39 acres are in the valley that stretches north from Orschwihr towards Vallée Noble. Zusslin cultivates four noble varieties in Bollenberg, and Sylvaner and Riesling in Clos Liebenberg; both of these parcels are historic lieux-dits. The Clos Liebenberg wines, in particular, express complexity and minerality because of this parcel's low yields, and rival the quality of the Grand Cru Pfingstberg (that is also planted with Riesling). All the vineyards are worked by hand and horse power.

Fermentation takes place with indigenous yeasts and minimal intervention. The wines age in traditional large oak casks from the Vosges Mountains and are left on their fine lees for up to two years. The higher-level wines can age for up to 20 years."

Quarts-de-Chaume - Coteaux du Layon

"The Loire Valley has a long history of producing superb, luscious and riveting sweet Chenin Blanc wines from the appellations of Quarts de Chaume, Bonnezeaux, and Coteaux du Layon. Among the most extraordinary wines we have come across in the region are the Coteaux du Layon from Moulin Touchais. While the domaine produces a great number of wines from their 145 hectares of vineyards, the Coteaux du Layon accounts for less than 10% of their production and has earned them a reputation as a true jewel in Anjou."

Vouvray

Gaston understood clearly that quality must come first—and that quality started with great vineyards. His Haut-Lieu parcel, which lies on Vouvray's "Première Côte," or "first slope," is home to virtually all of the appellation's acknowledged grand cru vineyards.
As the estate prospered in the post-WWII era, Gaston secured two additional prime vineyards on the Première Côte that would ensure the domaine's stature: Le Mont (purchased in 1957) and Clos du Bourg (farmed since 1953, purchased in 1963). Collectively, these three vineyards account for Huet being the greatest of all Vouvray producers."

Montlouis

"Xavier Weisskopf at "Rocher des Violettes" is one of the new generation of young producers buying into appellations in the Loire that are less developed and explored. Xavier prefers wines that are fresh mineral and long rather than rich and farms organically."

2410	Rocher des Violettes Montlouis-sur-Loire "La Négrette"	2014	59

"La Négrette hails from the oldest vines, planted in 1922 at high density (7,500 vines/ha) on a south-facing slope above Saint-Martin le Beau. It's correspondingly more powerful than Touche Mitaine and is aged for 18 to 20 months in barrel, mostly 2-4 years old but 30% new. Nonetheless, the wine retains great purity and minerality."

Saint-Bris

"100% Sauvignon Blanc - The 2014 Saint-Bris Exogyra Virgula, that alien-like name originating from a fossil found in the soil, comes from four parcels located on the same altitude. Jura

Poulsard

"Poulsard, which the natives sometimes confusingly call "Ploussard," is a thin-skinned and rather lightly colored grape. This combination lends itself to long fermenting on the skins, a process that can yield the odd but intriguing combination of light body and flavors that are intriguingly both delicate and intense at the same time."

Anjou, Touraine

"Patrick Corbineau's estate is located in the idyllic Loire Valley village of Candes-Saint-Martin. He has stubbornly rejected the trends and shortcuts of modern winemaking, despite constant pressure from both family and neighbors. He plows his fields by horse, uses no herbicides or pesticides, and destems all grapes by hand into woven baskets prior to a gentle press and maceration. Hardly anyone works as traditionally as Patrick Corbineau. He is truly one-of-a-kind, returning to ancient techniques and natural winemaking."

2648 La Grange aux Belles VdF Gamay "La Niña - Née des Caprices", Anjou 2015 80
"The Domaine de la Grange aux Belles is one of these fairly recent artisan wineries that make Anjou shine beyond its borders in spite of its humble table-wine status, 1 year in barrel then 2 years in vats to finish its malolactic. Marc Houtin says that this wine is undestructible, he never saw it get oxidized or take volatile, it's very particular from this terroir, always making wines that are well structured, tannic and savory."

Noëlla Morantin rented it from 2008 to 2011 but Laurent took it over in November 2011. It's organic since 1991 and they have been doing some biodynamic preparations since 2008."

Côte Roannaise

"From the very upper reaches of the Loire River, come the delicious, yet mostly unknown, red wines of the Côte Roannaise. Once a major supplier of wine to Paris and the Royal Court, the wine-producing region has shrunk to a mere 250 acres producing 55,000 cases of wine a year. The Gamay grape flourishes on these steep, granite slopes. Many of the vineyards are terraced and the best sites have a southeastern exposure, with all harvesting done by hand. Beaujolais is just under 50 miles away, but a more different expression of the Gamay grape could not be found. Part of this difference is surely due to the fact that a different clone is used, the Gamay Romain."

Nuits-Saint-Georges

"Nuits-Saint-Georges is a likeable and lively town with a centuries-old history of winemaking. It gives its name to the Côte de Nuits, and its patron saint, Saint Georges, gives his name to their most famous wine. Its AOC, which dates from September 1936, includes the commune of Premeaux-Prissey in the appellation. Most of the wines grown here are Pinot Noir, but there are some plots planted with Chardonnay. The Confrérie des Chevaliers du Tastevin, Bourgogne's most famous wine-brotherhood, was founded here in 1934."

Domaine de la Romanée-Conti

"DRC owns or leases a total of 27.99 hectares (69 acres) of grands crus in Vosne-Romanée, Chassagne-Montrachet and (since 2009) Corton. In order of size, if not necessarily reputation, the vineyards are as follows: La Tâche (6.06 hectares), Romanée Saint-Vivant (5.29), Echézeaux (4.67), Grands Echézeaux (3.53), Richebourg (3.51), La Romanée Conti (1.81), Corton Bressandes (1.19), Le Montrachet (0.68), Corton Clos du Roi (0.57), Corton Renardes (0.51) and Bâtard-Montrachet (0.17).The domaine only produces between 6000 and 8000 cases per year, all of it on precious allocations; La Romanée-Conti rarely yields more than a paltry 500 cases and averages 450 cases."

"Keeping it in the Families..." Two families have co-owned DRC since 1942. The current representatives of the de Villaine and Leroy/Roch clans are Aubert de Villaine and Henri-Frédéric Roch, whose printed signatures appear on every bottle. Between 1974 and 1991, Lalou Bize-Leroy, the fiery grande dame of Burgundy, was co-manager with Aubert de Villaine, but she left to concentrate on her own domaine and négociant business, following a dispute about the distribution of DRC's wines. Charles Roch, her sister's oldest son, who oversaw the release of the 1990 vintage but died in a road accident in 1992, briefly replaced her, before his brother, Henri-Frédéric, took over.

Aubert de Villaine's nephew, Bertrand, is also working at DRC these days. Nor does the family tradition end there. Bernard Noblet, who has been the domaine's chef de cave since 1985, took over from his own father, André, who spent 45 years at DRC."

Chiroubles -Brouilly- Côte-de-Brouilly

"When Jean Foillard tasted Rémi's wine, he immediately sought him out, recognizing the obvious talent that must be behind the wine. Jean has since taken Rémi under his wing, introducing him to his vast and diverse list of Parisian clients. Remi's wines currently have a very avid following in the bustling Paris natural wine scene as a result.
Rémi is a member of the informal group that has evolved from Kermit Lynch's "gang of four," the producers in Morgon who studied with natural-wine-pioneer Jules Chauvet (winemaker and biologist) and make natural wine (Foillard among them). "

"Jean-Claude Lapalu occupies an interesting position in the pantheon of contemporary Beaujolais. The son and grandson of winegrowers, he began bottling his own wines relatively late, at age 35. It was 1996. "I'm an intermediary," he acknowledges, "between the generation of Max Breton, who started before me, and the young generation today. He became fast friends with the Villié-Morgon / Fleurie circle of natural winemakers - Jean-Paul Thévenet, Max Breton, the late Marcel Lapierre, and Yvon Métras. "

"The spirit of Jacques Reynaud, the godfather of Châteauneuf-du-Pape, is always present. When the legendary founder of Château Rayas died suddenly in 1997, his wife asked their nephew, Emmanuel Reynaud, to take the reins at both Château Rayas and Château Fonsalette. Already making wines at his father's Château des Tours, Emmanuel agreed. Mostly Grenache with Cinsault and Syrah."

Châteauneuf-du-Pape

"In 1931 an Italian Francis Usseglio left Italy and went to Châteauneuf-du-Pape in France. After the war he got his own property - in 1948. He had two sons Pierre and Raymond. Pierre Usseglio got his father's property and Raymond established another estate. Today the 3. generation is in charge. The sons of Pierre Usseglio, Jean-Pierre and Thierry run Domaine Pierre Usseglio and Stephanie runs Domaine Raymond Usseglio"

"Château Cos d'Estournel is often referred to as a Super Second (Growth) and has a long and distinguished history in the Saint- Estèphe region, situated alongside Château Lafite-Rothschild across the border. This is largely due to M. Gaspard d'Estournel, the "Maharajah of Saint-Estèphe", who founded the estate in 1811. The name Cos (with the S pronounced) refers to a "hill of pebbles" in the Gascon dialect. "

2665 Ezio Voyat Vino di Tavola "Le Muraglie" 2014 72
"A natural smokey blend of Dolcetto and Petit Rouge. Ezio Voyat made his living as an accountant for a casino but he forged his legend as a producer of some of Italy's most distinctive wines. 'Le Muraglie' is truly a wine of place, slightly austere.Ezio died in 2003 leaving his wife and daughter to carry on his sizeable winemaking legacy."

Veneto

"The late, great Maestro del Veneto, Giuseppe Quintarelli, succeeded in establishing his mythical and legendary estate during an amazing sixty-year career. All of the tradition, love, heart, and soul of crafting one of the world's finest wines continue at the Quintarelli home and winery in the hills north of Verona. Giuseppe's daughter Fiorenza, his son-in-law Giampaolo, and his grandsons Francesco and Lorenzo are all keeping a close watch over the family's legacy."

"Nadia currently handles the marketing and promotional activity for the company, while their son Alberto oversees all aspects of production, from the growing of the vines to the completion of the bottling process. Zenato has also explored another important area of Italian wine production — Valpolicella. It is here that they have dedicated endless efforts to the improvement and success of Amarone production, a wine of noble attributes and prestige. Zenato has entered into international markets and received the highest accolades from the wine industry's leading experts".

2945 Costa Graia DOCG Superiore Cesanese "PIGLIO", Lazio 2013 63
"Costa Graia is composed of seven hectares of vineyards south of Rome. All the grapes cultivated are indigenous to the area: Cesanese d'Affile, Passerina, Uvapane, Ottonese, Nostrano, and Fosco Peloso. Their territory was the first DOCG area of Latium (Cesanese del Piglio). The farming is organic and every effort is paid in the winery to intervene as little as possible."

David Arthur Winery

"David's passion for the fermentation process began at an early age. A friendship forged on a seventh-grade school bus resulted in some early experimentation with apple juice and a dark closet. However, that initial interest soon waned and would not resurface until many years later while studying Fine Arts at the University of Denver. It was then that David began fermenting wine. A transition from university life to the restaurant business only strengthened that pursuit. At age 22, David opened his first restaurant with a wine list consisting of 25 wines—no small feat for a fondue restaurant in Boulder, Colorado, in the early 1970s. After a successful run with the restaurant, David moved to California and in 1977 opened a restaurant in Petaluma, California. It was here that David's palate became increasingly trained and refined and his interest in wine expanded exponentially with more exposure and close proximity to Northern California wine country. Over a glass of wine, David's father, Donald, disclosed he had purchased nearly 1,000 acres of land in the 1950s and 1960s in the Napa Valley and offered David the opportunity to cultivate the land and grow wine grapes. That conversation proved pivotal for David, and it put him on the path to becoming a vintner. David wholeheartedly accepted the challenge and began researching, learning and compiling all the necessary information to grow and cultivate grapes. Through internships at Chappellet Winery, Joseph Phelps Vineyards, and Schramsberg Cellars, David began learning the trade through hands-on experience in the vineyard and the cellar. Every bottle of David Arthur wines reflects David's unwavering energy and passion for the business he spent his life cultivating."

USA - Washington State

"Washington's first wine grapes were planted in 1825. By 1910, wine grapes were growing in most areas of the state, following the path of early settlers. Initially, it was French, German and Italian immigrants who pioneered the earliest plantings. Large-scale irrigation, fueled by runoff from the melting snowcaps of the Cascade Mountains, arrived in Eastern Washington in 1903 unlocking the dormant potential of the rich volcanic soils and war, sunny desert-like climate. Italian and German varietals were planted in the Yakima and Columbia Valleys and wine grape acreage expanded rapidly in the early part of the 20th century. The first commercial-scale plantings began in the 1960's. Early commercial producers mentored modern winemaking in the state. The resulting rapid expansion of the industry in the mid-70's is now rivaled by today's breakneck pace, where a new winery opens every couple of weeks."

Macvin

"Macvin du Jura is a sweet, fortified wine (vin doux naturel) produced in the Jura region of France. Macvin literally means "wine with brandy." It is made in the mutage method, where grape spirit is added to fermenting wine to stop fermentation and preserve natural sweetness. For AOC Macvin, this brandy must also come from within Jura and have aged at least 18 months in oak. The grapes that can be used are the main Jura varietals of Savagnin, Poulsard, Trousseau, Chardonnay and/or Pinot Noir, all picked late harvest."

Madeira

"D'Oliveira is one of the greatest of the classic Madeira shippers, and one of the few to survive from the pre-phylloxera era. Founded in 1850, and an amalgamation of firms dating back to 1820, it is today housed in cellars that date from 1619. This small jewel of a company has always be owned by the D'Oliviera family, who were once highly important growers in the parish of São Martinho, they produce Sercial, Verdelho, Bual, Malmsey and Terrantez wines."

Mead

2652	Ferme Apicole Desrochers Sweet Honey Wine "Cuvée de la Diable", Québec half bottle	NV	80

"It goes without saying that this line of products is respectful of the environment and of the bees offering the indispensable honey that goes into the mead, a real honey wine. In 1978, Marie-Claude Dupuis and Claude Desrochers install the first apiary of what would become Ferme Apicole Desrochers nestled in Ferme-Neuve in Québec. The 'Cuvée de la Diable' is natural, aged in casks, praised by the critics."
