If you tried to keep track of every brand new restaurant in New York City, you might go a little bit crazy. So just read this list instead. These are the new restaurant openings that seem like they have the most potential - although keep in mind, for the ones we haven't tried, we make no promises. Go forth and be a pioneer.

We'll be regularly updating this post. Once we check out a great spot, we'll add a note so you know where to read more about it - in our Hit List and Bar Hit List.

Ivy Lane

SSSS 116 E 60th St

Ivy Lane is a new, three-floor American restaurant on the Upper East Side from the people behind Ophelia and Industry Kitchen. If maximalist touches like big velvet couches and murals of anonymous women don't bother you, come here and try the burger with kimchi, steak with wasabi butter, and squid ink gnocchi - they all look promising.
