

NEWS

November 20, 2018

Baldwin's back on the scene

ALEC Baldwin's been keeping a low profile since being arrested Nov. 2 for allegedly punching a motorist over a parking spot (which he denies). But spies saw Baldwin on a double date with wife Hilaria and another couple at Williamsburg's Antica Pesa on Friday. Baldwin was "cool and friendly" during the meal, a source said. The group left at 11 p.m. and "Alec loved the cannoli so much that he ordered an extra set to go," a spy said. The eatery's Francesco Panella was catering a private affair the same night in Manhattan for Russell Crowe to celebrate Crowe's new project, "The Loudest Voice in the Room," with Seth MacFarlane.