

Madonna rocks Brooklyn

By PageSix.com Staff

March 11, 2013 | 4:00am

Madonna
FilmMagic

Madonna shocked diners at a Williamsburg restaurant when she arrived for one of her dancers' birthdays. The scene was gourmet Antica Pesa, where the Material Girl was seen — with her kids Lourdes and Rocco in tow — dressed down in a hat and glasses and wearing leather gloves. After a birthday cake dessert, the dancers had the staff close the restaurant's curtains and make a dance floor for them. "They started showcasing some of the moves from their MDNA tour," said a gobsmacked spy. "The staff quickly moved the tables out of the way to turn the dining area into a dance floor, which got everyone clapping and cheering, including Madonna, who watched from a table." Tom Hardy of "The Dark Knight Rises" was also at the Brooklyn outpost of a source said. Madonna's group tried to persuade Rocco to join them, the dancers "took a bow and hugged their boss, who approved like a

Get the new Page Six app

Now it's even easier to keep up with the latest celebrity news and juicy gossip.

