

French Wine

“Clearly, the pleasures wines afford are transitory – but so are those of the ballet, or of a musical performance. Wine is inspiring and adds greatly to the joy of living” – Napoleon Bonaparte

To say that wine is a passion of France would be a bold understatement. France is the world's top exporter of wine, with grapevines covering more than 750,000 hectares of land in France. To put that in perspective, that's close to the equivalent of one million football fields. With the sheer amount of land that wine covers in France, one must discuss the ideology of terroir in French wine. More important than the region or the varietal of wine; terroir focuses on the soil conditions, climate and altitude that are the fundamental factors that develop the aromatics and taste of French wine. This intense focus on both farming practices and grape varietal is why some of the most expensive bottles of wine in the world are produced in France.

Our team at La Serre & Bar La Rue has curated a wine list to display the depth of French wine which can be enjoyed by itself or paired with our fabulous cuisine. Sante!
