We don’t want to take away from what is (hopefully!) a great meal, but we need your help. California’s $97 billion restaurant industry is at risk: more than 75% of the state’s eating and drinking locations are in danger of closing. One-third of all jobs lost in California as a result of the pandemic were in the leisure and hospitality industry, and more could come in the weeks ahead if Congress doesn’t take action.

There’s a long road ahead before we can fully reopen and stay open, and we need your help to get there. Please ask your representative, Speaker Nancy Pelosi, to support the RESTAURANTS Act, a bipartisan bill that would establish a $120 billion fund for independent restaurants and bars in danger of closing their doors forever due to COVID-19.

It would also...

- Generate $24 billion in economic benefits for California.
- Galvanize California’s tourism industry, encouraging travelers to eat in California’s restaurants and spend money on lodging, other tourist attractions, and retail, generating $13.5 billion – the most profound impact of any state in the country.
- Help protect the jobs of over 1.8 million Californians working restaurant and foodservice jobs.
