PROMOTE EVENT

This January, The Fat Radish - an NYC, British inspired farm-to-table restaurant - will be featuring a Dry Jan/Vegan menu all month long to help kickstart your new year on a healthy (yet still delicious) note.

Partake in non-alcoholic cocktails, courtesy of their partnership with Seedlip for options on what to drink when you're not drinking, and indulge in a new vegan menu that includes adapted recipes from Katzie Guy Hamilton's new cookbook, Clean Enough, made by Chef Michale Navaratte.

The new food menu will feature a Multi grain Avocado Crostini, as well as Celery Root with Jicama, Grilled Cellar Squash Soup, Whole Roasted Paprika Cauliflower, and Braised Chicories. For dessert, indulge guiltlessly in Stewed Bartlett Pears with Toasted Oats and Almond Ice cream. For non-alcoholic drink options, choose from the 1542 Vintage, which features Seedlip Grove 42, verjus, honey, and soda, or Marquee Moon - Seedlip Spice 94, red roobios, pear vinear, CBD oil, and honeycomb.

Price: $12 - $40
