SOMMELIER'S SELECTION

001 Easton 'The Mountaineer' 2023,
Amador County, Sierra Foothills, California 17 / 83
Juicy blackberry, bright cherry, wild herb [50% Barbera, 50% Zinfandel]

If there was ever a vino equivalent of meandering down a forested mountain pass in the fall, it would be Bill Easton's "The Mountaineer." This fascinating blend of half Barbera (a native Italian grape) and old-vine California Zinfandel is an elevated ode to the simple red wine table blends of Piedmont in Northern Italy. It balances the juicy black fruit and spice of Zinfandel with a bright and aromatic cherry lift that is uniquely Barbera. The satisfying texture and delicate overlay of raspberry and wet soil bring the pairing home for pasta and game meat in particular, transporting you somewhere colored by autumn leaves.

SPARKLING WINE

FEATURED SPARKLING WINE

118 Enrico Serafino 'Oudeis' Metodo Classico Brut 2020,
Alta Langa, Piedmont, Italy 96

White peach, bread crust, delicate yellow flower [85% Pinot Noir, 15% Chardonnay]

Many wine regions outside of France boast their own version of the famous Champagne, but none with such flair and attitude as Alta Langa in northern Piedmont. The high-altitude, mountainous subregion produces its own world-class sparkling wine made by the traditional method, including this selection from Enrico Serafino, which bears the name "Oudeis" (Odysseus) for the anonymity maintained by its winemakers. Their notion is that the terroir and the fruit should shine on its own, with little to no input from the people making the wine, and the result is a crystalline, complex, and endlessly interesting sparkler that certainly gives Champagne a run for its money.

ITALIAN WHITE WINE

FEATURED WHITE WINE

415 Baricchi 'Ça Va Sans Dire' 2017, Casasco, Piedmont, Italy 154
Dried herb, honeyed peach, passionfruit [100% Timorasso]

I had the pleasure of tasting Baricchi's "Ça Va Sans Dire" Timorasso (meaning "It goes without saying" in French) for the first time at the table of winemakers Natale Simonetta, his wife Francesca, and daughter Rachele, at a true artisan winery in Barbaresco country. This Timorasso is a labor of love, laid down for a patient and slow eight years in old French barrels before bottling. Timorasso is already called the "Barolo of white wine" for its complexity, ageability, and finesse, and this bottle proves those characteristics in spades. Ça va sans dire.

ITALIAN RED WINE

FEATURED RED WINE

681 Feudo Montoni 'Vrucara' 2019, Sicily 109

Crushed plum, black cherry, dark chocolate [100% Nero d'Avola]

Those who appreciate a deep sense of place in a bottle of wine will love Feudo Montoni's "Vrucara." It is a rare, single-vineyard expression of Nero d'Avola from ancient vines that is redolent with balsam herbs, wild berries, and a sumptuous sense of dark chocolate on the finish. The palate balances elegance with a rustic woodsy character, culminating in a red wine that is as satisfying in its complexity as in its texture.
