

Washington, D.C.'s 6 most exciting restaurant debuts of 2023

Washington, DC's, dining scene is like a mesmerizing mosaic, and its newest crop of restaurants only amp up that signature diversity. Choose from a MICHELIN-starred Indian hotspot in Penn Quarter, a sleek and sceney sushi shrine in Georgetown, and an award-winning Creole place in Anacostia. In a city that thrives on differences, these newcomers stand out for being especially unique. Read on for a guide to the six best DC restaurant debuts of 2023.

Christabel Lobo

6 Restaurants ▾

Updated December 06, 2023

Philippe Chow - DC

$$$ • Chinese • Southwest Waterfront

★★★★★ 416 reviews

The Washington Post's Tom Sietsema singled out the Peking duck at this NYC import as a "splurge to remember" soon after it opened in June. Crispy, glossy, and just the right kind of decadent, Philippe Chow's claim to fame isn't just a signature dish—it's an experience (it can take an hour to prep) that makes this...

Read more

Table for 2 today

6:30 PM*

6:45 PM*

7:00 PM*

7:15 PM*

7:30 PM*

