The hands-down winner of “most courses in the NYE prix fixe” is Phillippe Chow, where they’re offering up 16 courses (including but not limited to steamed dumplings, chicken satay, spring rolls, Chilean sea bass, kung pao chicken, lobster, peking duck, tableside cotton candy baked Alaska and a warm chocolate lava cake) worth of Beijing-style items. If you’re feeling bubbly, you can upgrade your dinner with a bottle of Perrier-Jouët Grand Brut. Dinner starts at $175/pp, reservations available here.
