Catering Options

"PICK UP/Drop off" CATERING

"Pick Up/Drop off" Catering is best for parties of any size.

You choose the Meats, Sides and Condiments (pickles, onions, jalapenos...etc) you want, and we take it from there. Whether you pick it up or have it dropped off we have it all packaged and ready for you to serve, unless you have specifically requested it to be chilled for serving at a later time.

If you are picking up your order from the store, we recommend that you have a method of keeping your items hot or cold as needed. Ice chests work great for this.

Planning Reference

A common question we get here at BBQ2U is “How many people will one portion feed?” The table below provides a rough guideline to assist in the planning process. The goal here is to just give a starting point. Each event is different and usually is customized to fit the customer needs. Host/Hostess knows their guest list better than we do and as such this table should just be used as a starting point.
