

WING BAR

A woman in a steampunk pilot outfit stands on the left side of the image. She wears a dark leather jacket over a white ruffled blouse, dark leather pants, and tall dark boots. She has a dark leather aviator cap with goggles on her forehead. Her right hand is on her hip, and her left hand holds a small object. To her right is a large, circular clock face with Roman numerals, mounted on a large, dark, circular object. Below the clock face is a small, ornate hot air balloon basket with a large bell hanging from it. The background is a textured, brownish-gold surface with various gears and mechanical parts visible, particularly at the bottom and right edges.
