HOTEL COLEE'S NEWLY RENOVATED SKYLINE HAVEN IS ATLANTA'S LATEST SPOT TO SIP AND SOCIALIZE.

BY MARY PEEPLES

Hotel Colee (@hotelcolee) is extending the pillar of celebration into the revamped, iconic rooftop bar, and what better place to start than with a new name? Crowned Rosé & Rye (@roseandrye.atl), the ambiance boasts a current take on the classic rooftop haunt, making it the ideal Buckhead spot to grab a bev with your friends, increase your network in the city, or celebrate that big promotion you've been gunning for. Enjoy the buzzing atmosphere 125 feet above Atlanta, and bask in the stunning skyline through the night. As Atlanta continues to prove that it's on the up and up, those at the Hotel Colee felt that the new spot needed to reflect the cultural identity authentically. The vibe is nothing short of vibrant. From two outdoor patios with plush seating and heaters to accommodate our uncharacteristically cold evenings, floor-to-ceiling light installations, and a jaw-dropping mural created by renowned artist Janel Raihl, the newly renovated lounge left its former look behind. Once the initial shock subsides, you'll be interested in the cocktail menu. The Gerber Group created a seamless and classic selection, including time-tested concoctions. Rosé & Rye's old fashioned, negroni and espresso martinis are calling your name after clocking out of the office. To solidify its role as Buckhead's premier bar and lounge, they've added a signature sip sure to bring you back time and again. The Buckhead Spritz is a refreshing mix of Grey Goose Vodka, St. Germain, prosecco, lime juice and club soda, and we can already see ourselves enjoying this cocktail while finding the perfect plush seat for a sunset viewing.
